WAKE GIVEN TREASURER POST

GASOLINE HITS 17 CENTS HERE AS RESULT OF PRICE-CUTTING

Motorists Rejoice as Third Reduction is Made.

HIGH TEST UP
Independents Slash to Meet Standard Oil Rates.

East Liverpool motorists rejoiced today as retail gasoline tumbled to 17 cents a gallon as the result of a price-cutting war between refiners and wholesalers. It was the third reduction in the last week.

"No Knock" Gas 18 Cents.
Seven wholesalers quoted a retail price of 17 cents for regular motor gas and 20 cents for high test, or so-called "no knock" gas. One distributor asked 18 cents.

The new quotations, distributors said, were for East Liverpool only and do not apply to filling stations in West Virginia, Pennsylvania or Westville.

Independents said they were compelled to meet the prices of the Standard Oil company which operates two retail stations and furnishes gasoline to other filling stations.

Officials of the Standard company declared that their prices have been higher than most companies for several weeks and that in order to meet competition they had been forced to cut.

Other Cities Charge 19 Cents.
East Liverpool is one of four Ohio communities in which a price-cutting war is being waged. Outside of these places gasoline is being sold at 19 and 20 cents a gallon.

The present price here is the lowest since pre-war days. The 17-cent rate includes a three-cent tax.

How long the low prices will continue, distributors were unable to say today.

Today

A Joyful S. O. Day.
L. A. To N. Y. 18 Hours
Usual Riots in India

By ARTHUR BRISBANE.

(Copyright, 1929, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

A DAY in June does not compare with directors' meeting day for stockholders in Standard Oil of Indiana.

Mr. Rockefeller is fighting to expel Col. Stewart and Col. Stewart is fighting to continue bossing S. O. of Ind.

IMAGINE the emotions of stockholders told that they are to receive a 50 per cent stock dividend without money and without price, also without income tax, plus higher dividends.

FOUR million six hundred and twenty-five thousand shares of perfectly good Standard Oil of Indiana stock, worth at present market prices $144,000,000. That's a good deal to give away at a directors' meeting.

THIS liberality is expected to help Col. Stewart's hunt for proxies. Mr. Rockefeller may tell stockholders it is easy enough to hand out stock, less easy to pay dividends on it, especially if the company should be cut off from the other little Standard Oil octopuses.

ENTHUSIASTS were trying to buy Standard Oil of Indiana 70,000 shares at a time Tuesday. Speculators said to themselves, "If Standard of Indiana can do it, why not other Standard Oil companies?" So others went up in price.

THE price of copper metal went to 17½ Tuesday. Higher prices are expected in the Anaconda Copper laboratories. John D. Ryan's experiments have produced this copper at low cost for building purposes. In the long run, more copper will be used in building than for any other purpose.

CAPTAIN HAWKS, able flier from Houston, Tex., leaving Los Angeles Monday morning, got out on the edge of the Atlantic Monday afternoon, spoke over the radio Tuesday night, having broken all records flying across the continent in 13 hours 21 minutes 59 seconds. Except for bad weather he would have landed two hours sooner.

THAT interests you, who will cross the continent in nine hours before long, and it interests railroad men, among whom the wise will imitate Gen. Atterbury, of the Pennsylvania, and take up flying without waiting, not imitating old stage coach owners who decided that "locomotives will be found in the gutter in South Philadelphia where it had been hurled from a speeding automobile.

Ohio Pottery Merger Expected Within Two Weeks, Stewart Says

NEW COLD WAVE IS SWEEPING TOWARD OHIO

Drop in Temperature Is Predicted for Tonight.

WEST SHIVERING

Snow Flurries Will Accompany Fall of Mercury.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 7.—A new cold wave is sweeping eastward from the Rocky mountain region and is expected to reach Ohio during the night, the government weather bureau announced today.

While it is not expected that Ohio will suffer as much as a number of neighboring states west of here, a sharp drop in temperature was predicted for tonight.

Temperatures of 18 to 20 above zero are in store for central Ohio, the weather bureau stated.

Many roads are blocked by snow and ice—most of Denver, telegraphic dispatches stated. Sections of Montana reported the mercury as low as 20 below zero.

Temperatures throughout Ohio will be much lower tomorrow, according to the weather bureau. Intermittent snow flurries will accompany the zero weather.

Streets and sidewalks in the Capital city were covered with a sheet of ice which was slow to melt. A number of minor traffic accidents resulting from slippery streets was reported.

MRS. S. E. TUCKER DIES; AGED 74

Mrs. Sarah Elizabeth Tucker, 74, died last night in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Charles Fulmer, Sunnyside avenue, Pleasant Heights, after five weeks' illness.

She leaves four sons, George, William, Carter and Elisha, East Liverpool; three daughters, Mrs. Harry Riddle, Rochester, Pa., and Mrs. Luther Hall and Mrs. Fulmer, this city; one brother, Sylvester Eftaw, Dart, O., and two sisters, Mrs. Alice Nolan, Marietta, and Miss Nora Eftaw, Dart.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the Fulmer home, in charge of the Rev. O. L. Benedum, pastor of the Nazarene church, of which she was a member. Burial will be made in Riverview cemetery.

BRITISH TROOPS FIRE UPON MOB

LONDON, Feb. 7.—British troops fired upon a mob of striking mill workers in the Nubazar quarter of Bombay, killing two Moslems and wounding several others, said a Central News dispatch from Bombay this afternoon. The death toll among Pathans and Moslems at Bombay now totals 37, the Central News dispatch added.

PAYS $100 FINE ON RUM CHARGE

William Walklett, 517 East Fifth street, was fined $100 and costs today by Municipal Judge J. C. Hanley after he pleaded guilty to a charge of illegal possession of intoxicating liquor.

Walklett was arrested following a liquor raid on his home by Chief McDermott and Desk Sergeant Toland yesterday afternoon. Police reported finding a half pint of whiskey and a large quantity of home brew. His fine was paid.

Toledoan Killed by Train

MARION, O., Feb. 7.—Funeral arrangements were being made today for Henry Stoll, of Toledo, O., who was killed by a Big Four train at the Main street crossing in Mount Victory, Hardin county, late yesterday.

Girl Who "Knew Much" Shot To Death in Philadelphia

Sophie Tittleman, 26, is "Taken for Ride."

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 7.—Sophie Tittleman, alias Sophie Martin, alias Dorothy Taylor, 26, known to police as a habitue of the underworld, was "taken for a ride" in the parlance of gangdom early today because she "knew too much," police say. The bullet-riddled body of the woman was found lying in a gutter in South Philadelphia where it had been hurled from a speeding automobile.

Necessary Papers for $20,000,000 Combine Are Being Prepared in Cleveland.

LAWYER SAID TO HEAD DIRECTORS

Knowles, Taylor and Knowles and Smith-Phillips Plants Here Interested.

A definite announcement concerning the American Chinaware Corporation, a merger of more than a score of Ohio potteries, with resources of more than $20,000,000 will be forthcoming in about two weeks, W. B. Stewart, Cleveland attorney, said today.

Stewart, who is reputed to be temporary chairman of the board of directors of the big combine, stated the merger had not been finally closed but indicated it would be in the near future. The necessary papers are being drawn up, he said.

Two East Liverpool companies, controlling five plants, are interested in the proposed merger. They are: The Knowles, Taylor & Knowles company, having four plants, and the Smith-Phillips China company with one plant. Sebring, Carrollton, Cambridge, Steubenville, Coshocton and other Ohio cities are also represented.

Plans for the merger are said to have been advanced by Louis Porter, Chicago furniture dealer, who for many years was connected with the sales staff of some of the Sebring plants.

SEES DEFEAT FOR STEWART

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—That the Rockefeller have enough proxy votes to defeat the re-election of Col. Robert W. Stewart as a director of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana at the annual meeting on March 7 was declared here today by Winthrop W. Aldrich, an attorney and member of the Rockefeller proxy committee.

Proxies representing more than 51 per cent of the stock of the company have been deposited with the committee which is now campaigning for the removal of "Colonel Bob" from his post as head of the Indiana committee, according to announcement made by Mr. Aldrich.

CHICAGO, Feb. 7.—Reports that the forces backing John D. Rockefeller Jr. in the battle for control of the Standard Oil company of Indiana, had already secured enough proxies to make certain Col. Robert W. Stewart's ouster as chairman of the board of directors, were branded "absurd" at the company's main offices here today.

Although Col. Stewart was still absent from the city, his associates "went to bat" for him in denying the claims of the rival faction.

SISTERS KILLED IN AX BATTLE

WARSAW, Feb. 7.—Two sisters, Marja and Josefa Skarddzicki, of Leszno, fought a duel with axes and killed each other today in an attempt to decide which should marry the man who had courted both.

A lover, said to be an engineer named Broecklitz, had asked them to decide which one he was to marry. The women retired into the forest, each armed with an ax. The duel was decided in an instant. Josefa's ax severed the arteries of Marja's neck and at the same moment Marja's ax crushed Josefa's skull.

FIND NO RUM IN TWO RAIDS

Sheriff W. J. Barlow, assisted by Deputies George Harroff, Gomer Lewis and James Elliott and Jailer David Ellis, conducted two liquor raids in Lisbon last night, but no evidence was found at either place.

The places visited were the Lisbon hotel at South Market and Washington streets and the home of Nick Rendell, about a half block distant, in Washington street. Search warrants were issued by Probate Judge Lodge Riddle about 4:45 o'clock.

Girl Who "Knew Much" Shot To Death in Philadelphia

Sophie Tittleman, 26, is "Taken for Ride."

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 7.—Sophie Tittleman, alias Sophie Martin, alias Dorothy Taylor, 26, known to police as a habitue of the underworld, was "taken for a ride" in the parlance of gangdom early today because she "knew too much," police say. The bullet-riddled body of the woman was found lying in a gutter in South Philadelphia where it had been hurled from a speeding automobile.

The fashionably-dressed body was found by two policemen and identified by police photographs. The girl had been shot twice through the head. At first it was believed she had been the victim of an attack or the motive was robbery, but this was dispelled when an examination revealed a valuable diamond and $95 in cash on the body.

Several men with whom the woman had been arrested at different times are being sought for questioning.

AX IS READY FOR SCORES OF BILLS PENDING IN CONGRESS

Seventieth Session Apparently Writes Its Record.

ADJOURNS MAR. 4

Cruiser, Kellogg, Boulder Dam Bills Top Work.

BY WILLIAM K. HUCHINSON.
WASHINGTON, Feb. 7.—With adjournment less than a month away, the seventeenth congress has apparently written its legislative record upon the statute books, with the exception of personal measures and appropriation bills.

The administration's major program has been completed, although a finishing touch must be given the new cruiser bill. The second session, which began last December and ends March 4, therefore, will have as its outstanding achievements passage of the cruiser bill, ratification of the Kellogg-Brand peace treaty and enactment of the Swing-Johnson Boulder Dam bill.

Few Personal Measures to Pass.
Hundreds of bills are pending which undoubtedly will be killed in the closing legislative jam. Other hundreds will be enacted but these will be bridge bills, individual pension measures and the minor type of legislation, which affects only a single locality and provokes little or no opposition elsewhere.

In the house, the legislative program was about complete today although three appropriation bills—for the navy department and the legislative bodies and the second deficiency measure—must be enacted. The remainder of the time probably will be devoted to talkfests or to minor bills, enacted previously by the senate.

In the senate, four bills were given a preferential position. These were the Caraway anti-gambling bill, the Jones prohibition reorganization bill, the Edge resolution for a survey of the Nicaragua canal route and the Glass bill for the purchase of a public market site in the District of Columbia. The Edge resolution alone appeared certain of adoption, while the Jones and Glass bills had been passed by the house.

Five Appropriation Proposals.
Five appropriation bills have yet to pass the senate. In addition to those pending in the house, the war department and District of Columbia bills were pending in the senate. The first deficiency appropriation bill, which passed both house and senate, was still in conference, where the senate and house conferees were in violent disagreement over the senate amendment appropriating $24,000,000 for prohibition enforcement. This bill may die in conference, with its important features—excepting the prohibition fund—transferred to the second deficiency bill.

Radio legislation may get a brief spot in the congressional sun toward the close of the session. This probably will take the form of a resolution, merely extending the powers of the federal radio commission for another year.

BANK OF ENGLAND CUTS DISCOUNT

LONDON, Feb. 7.—The Bank of England discount rate was increased today from 4 1/2 per cent to 5 1/2 per cent. The 4 1/2 per cent rate had been in effect since April, 1927.

The immediate cause of the increase was the withdrawal of $14,400,000 in gold from the Bank of England for the United States in the last 48 hours, following other large withdrawals in recent weeks.

Activity on the New York Stock Exchange is held directly responsible for the withdrawals.

SILVER LINING STORY REVERSED

DAYTON, O., Feb. 7.—The world took on a rosy hue for Roger Daugherty, 21, when he awoke this morning, but later he found himself behind the bars in city prison here, with the colors of life blasted and the disgrace of arrest attached to his name.

Daugherty is a radio operator, and he was to have taken his federal examination for an operator's license today. He was confident of obtaining a passing grade.

The youth was also service manager in a large radio supply company here. When he arrived at work this morning, he found detectives waiting for him. They accused him of stealing $2,000 worth of radio sets from his employer.

He had broken down and confessed. He was then lodged in city jail and charged with theft.

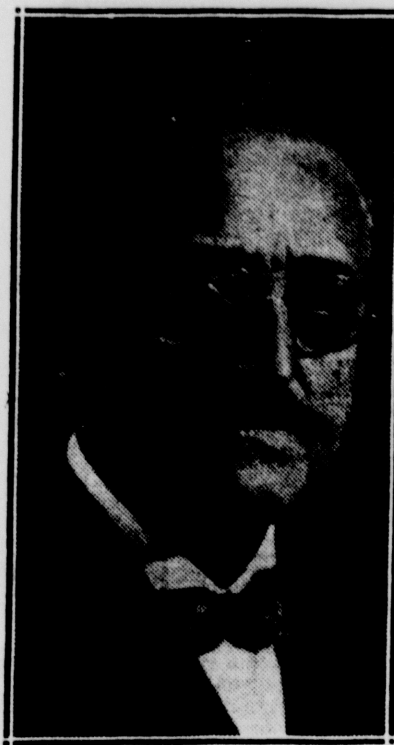

He is 32-year-old Fern E. Garwood. The man confessed that he beat Miss Anna Keough, 76, to death with a brick. The spinster's skull was fractured in seven places.

The confessed murderer appeared in common pleas court yesterday and pleaded guilty to the murder. He heard the judge dole out the life term without batting an eyelash.

According to a detailed confession made by the man, he was "tanked up on bay rum" when he committed the outrage. The "lure" of gold was his motive, the man said.

In making the confession, Garwood implicated another, James McDonald. The latter is expected to stand trial on the charge.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE LEADERS

Joseph Betz.

Joseph Betz, Market street job printer, and H. B. Barth, have been installed as president and secretary, respectively, of the East Liverpool Chamber of Commerce.

Betz, who is serving his thirteenth year as head of the chamber, came to East Liverpool in 1887 to publish a weekly newspaper. He entered the

H. B. Barth.

Barth, who has been secretary of the chamber for nine years, was born in East Liverpool and following his public school course attended Mercersburg Academy and the King School of Dramatic Art, Pittsburgh.

City Council Favors $40,000 'White Way'

Plans for 110-light System in Downtown Zone And East End are Discussed at Conference.

A proposed "white way" for the downtown and East End business sections, costing approximately $40,000, will be installed in East Liverpool probably this spring if a plan proposed at a conference last night between city officials and representatives of the Ohio Power company, materializes.

The new street lighting system, according to the agreement made, will be installed in Fifth street from Walbrook to Jefferson street; from Broadway to Jefferson street; Washington street from Fourth to Sixth street; Market street from Fourth street to the Horn switch in St. Clair avenue and to Ninth street in Dresden avenue; Jackson street from Fifth to Sixth street; Fourth street from Market street to Broadway and the west side of the street from Sixth to the Horn switch.

In East End the system will cover

Mulberry street from the railroad crossing to Pennsylvania avenue and Pennsylvania avenue from the Garfield school to Virginia avenue.

Approximately 110 standards, which will be either concrete or iron, will be required in the proposed system. Each standard will be 24 feet high with a light bracket extending out over the street about 18 feet from the base. Each light will be equipped with a 600-candlepower incandescent lamp.

Cost of installation will be borne jointly by the city and the abutting property owners. The property owners will pay 85 per cent, while the city will pay the rest. The cost for a frontage of 40 feet would be $170 for the property owner and $30 for the city, according to estimates. Maintenance of the standards would be in the hands of the power company, while

TORAL GETS NEW LEASE ON LIFE

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 7.—After he had made all preparations to die before a firing squad at daybreak, Jose de Leon Toral, young self confessed assassin of president-elect Alvaro Obregon, received a new lease on life today.

By order of President Emilio Portes Gil the death sentence upon Toral will not be carried out until the national executive can consider the application that the sentence be commuted to life imprisonment.

After the supreme court had dismissed the appeal of Toral's lawyer, based upon the contention that the jury which found Toral guilty, had been intimidated, lawyers telegraphed to President Portes Gil last night requesting executive clemency. That was the last hope for the self-confessed slayer.

CLOSE EASTERN OHIO COAL DEAL

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., Feb. 7.—The largest coal deal in recent years in the eastern Ohio field was recorded today when Charles E. Murer transferred to the Youghiogheny and Ohio Coal company 3,815 acres of Belmont county coal lands and an unnamed tract in Jefferson county. The land was owned by the Glens Run Coal company and includes several hundred acres in the vicinity of its mine on Rush run, Jefferson county.

Dayton Man Who Beat Woman To Death Gets Life Sentence

Prisoner Confessed He Killed Spinster With Brick.

DAYTON, O., Feb. 7.—The confessed perpetrator of Dayton's most brutal murder in recent years, today had been condemned to spend the remainder of his life in the Ohio state penitentiary at hard labor.

He is 32-year-old Fern E. Garwood. The man confessed that he beat Miss Anna Keough, 76, to death with a

12,000 DRESS WORKERS STRIKE

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Sign-bearing pickets patrolled Manhattan today as some 12,000 striking dress workers, representing the Needle Trades Workers' Industrial union, went on strike for recognition of a 40-hour week, a no-discharge agreement, and a minimum wage scale.

FIRE DRIVES 17 INTO STREETS

TOLEDO, Feb. 7.—Seventeen persons, including six children, were driven from their beds into the streets by two fires here early today. Two persons leaped to safety from second-story windows.

The first fire was in an apartment building and the other in a business block.

MAN IS SCALDED IN AKRON FIRE

AKRON, Feb. 7.—Fire, resulting from a boiler explosion in the fuel preparation room of the power building at the Firestone Tire & Rubber company late last night, was brought under control early today. Three men were injured by the explosion.

Edward Ambarger, 35, who was badly scalded, was the most seriously hurt.

The three-story power building was reduced to ruins by the explosion and the resulting fire.

FORMER STATE SENATOR NAMED FOR BUCKLEY JOB BY COOPER

Canton Banker Chosen To Fill Vacancy Today.

READY TO ACT

Governor Concurs in Action of G. O. P. Committee.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 7.—Former State Senator H. Ross Ake, of Canton, is the new treasurer for the state of Ohio.

Governor Cooper made the announcement of his selection of a successor to Bert B. Buckley shortly after 1 o'clock this afternoon.

The chief executive announced that he had "fully concurred" in the unanimous action of the Republican state central committee in recommending that the governor appoint Ake to succeed Buckley, who resigned under "political pressure" Monday night.

The governor then issued a signed commission. Ake will assume his new duties immediately.

The new treasury custodian is president of the Canton Morris Plan bank. Eight years ago he was a member of the Ohio senate. He was also a former member of the Republican state central committee. He served as treasurer of Stark county for two terms.

Appointee 50 Years Old.
CANTON, O., Feb. 7.—H. Ross Ake, Ohio's new treasurer, is 50 years old, a native of Stark county, and has lived practically all of his life here.

He was born near Canton and attended Mt. Union college at Alliance. He was also a student at Eastman Business College, Bennington, N. Y.

He served one term as treasurer of Stark county.

Since the organization of the Morris Plan bank here, he has been actively connected with that institution and has held the office of president and treasurer for the last four years. Before that he was secretary and manager of the bank for six years.

Ake is married and has three sons, Judge Harvey Ake, of the probate court here, is a cousin.

STIMSON LEAVES ISLANDS FEB. 23

MANILA, Feb. 7.—Governor General Stimson will leave here for the United States on Feb. 23, it was announced today. He declined to comment on reports that he had been selected as a member of President-elect Hoover's cabinet. He indicated, however, he was leaving the Philippines to assume other duties.

"The nature of any appointment," he said, "I prefer to leave to Mr. Hoover."

Following the announcement that the governor general was sailing for the United States on the President Pierce, it was disclosed that Senators Quezon and Osmena will follow Stimson to Washington to seek an audience and confer on the governor general's successor.

ROMAN QUESTION NOW SETTLED

LONDON, Feb. 7.—Cardinal Gasparri, papal secretary of state, today announced the settlement of the Roman question—the church-state conflict—to the diplomatic corps at the Vatican, said an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Rome.

The entire diplomatic body accredited to the Holy See had been invited to the Vatican at 10 o'clock this morning to receive the announcement.

The agreement settling the conflict of approximately 59 year duration will be signed at the lateran palace on Sunday, the Exchange Telegraph dispatch added.

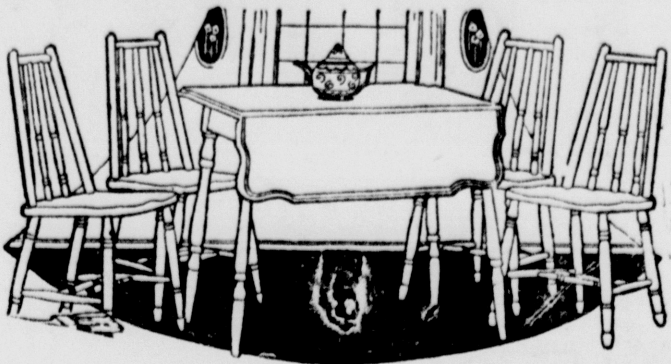

DECEMBER, MAY SET DANCE MARK

DAYTON, O., Feb. 7.—A 52-year-old man, Frank Miller, of this city, and his 19-year-old dance partner, Ruby Wion, of Greenville, O., set what is believed to be a new world marathon dance record today, winning a marathon dance contest here after 1,565 hours of continuous shuffling. They were awarded $1,000.

They defeated Joe Rock, of Chicago, and his sister, Mary, who were awarded second prize of $500, by 12 hours.

The team of Rock and Rock gave up the chase last night and while the team of Miller and Wion was then the official winner, the May-December couple continued to keep in motion until informed this morning a new record had been established.

RIVER RISING AFTER RAINS; RAISE WICKETS

Stage of 7.5 Feet at Dam No. 8 at Noon.

NO NAVIGATION

Steamer Sam Craig Tied Up at Lock
No. 6.

Rising at the rate of one-tenth foot an hour, as result of rain, the Ohio river had reached a stage of 7.5 feet at noon today at Dam No. 8. After falling to 6.8, the stage began to rise at midnight.

The wickets at Dam 7, Midland, were raised yesterday afternoon. Other wickets probably will be raised today.

The Allegheny and Monongahela rivers are choked with ice above Pittsburgh.

It will be a week or more before navigation is resumed, rivermen say.

Orders for Equipment

Orders for river equipment continue to be placed in Pittsburgh boatyards. The Dravo Contracting company yesterday received a contract from the Whiting, Turner Construction company, Baltimore, to construct two steel floating caissons to be used in the construction of piers for a bridge across the Tennessee river.

They will be each 101x51x16 feet deep and will be fabricated and erected in the Neville Island yards. After their completion they will be floated down the Ohio river and up the Tennessee to the site of the proposed bridge.

At the same time an order was received for the construction of two steel barges from the same concern to be equipped with steel spuds and which will be used to mount a floating derrick and concrete mixing plant.

The three steel barges for the Ohio River Sand company, Louisville, each 130x30x7.6, are nearing completion on the ways and will be launched as soon as the stage of water permits. A flush type deck barge 100x26x6.6 is being constructed for the Mount Vernon Bridge company, Madison, Ind., to be used in connection with the construction of a bridge across the Ohio river at that point.

United States Awards Contract

The United States engineers of the St. Louis district awarded a contract to the Ayer & Lord Tie Co., Paducah, for the construction of a Diesel driver screw propeller launch, for service on the Missouri and Mississippi rivers. It will be 36x9x4.9 and when completed will cost $6,450. The United States engineers of the Chattanooga, Tenn., district, expect to ask bids during the current month for the construction of a Diesel electric towboat.

The Basic Product company completed the erection of a covered belt driven loading and unloading chute in the back channel of the Ohio river, near the head of Neville Island. This will facilitate the loading and unloading of cement from barges.

Captain Thomas Jones, lockmaster of Lock No. 3, Ohio river, is supervising the installation of lock gate and operating machinery in the locks of Deadman's Island dam, Ohio river.

The Pittsburgh Steel company is asking for a federal permit to drive piles and fill with furnace slag along the shores of the Monongahela river for a distance of 820 feet, starting at a point 5,450 feet above Lock No. 4. This will be an extension of their existing slag wall at Monessen, three miles in length.

Engineers Repair Dam

Major E. D. Ardery, in charge of the Huntington district, is notifying river interests that lock and dam No. 13 at McMechen, W. Va., and No. 24 at Racine, O., will be placed out of commission during spring for necessary repairs. The upper gate tracks at No. 13 will be reconstructed and new horses, props and wickets installed in the navigable pass. At No. 24 both gate tracks will be reconstructed in the lock. If the stage of water permits work will be started at No. 13 about March 1 and at No. 24 when the former work is completed.

On account of low water the steamer Sam Craig of the Union Barge Line corporation was compelled to tie up at Lock No. 6, Ohio river. Work on the second steamer of the line, the C. W. Talbot at the Hays Landing, is progressing.

Major Jarvis J. Bain, Pittsburgh district engineer, yesterday received word from the war department that Captain William S. Kilmer, corps of engineers, has been assigned to duty as assistant to the district engineer of Pittsburgh. This change will take effect upon completion of Captain Kilmer's present tour of foreign service in accordance with an order to be issued by the commanding general of the Hawaiian department. A federal permit was granted to the Lyons Sand company of Fairmont, W. Va., to dredge sand and gravel in the Monongahela river between Brownsville and Fairmont.

'MY MARYLAND' COMING FEB. 14

Cast of 100 Will Present Musical Romance.

"My Maryland" the musical version of Clyde Fitch's play "Barbara Frietchie," which comes to the Cantic theater Feb. 14, tells the tale of the south during the war; of how a southern girl sacrifices her all for the love of her northern captain. It is an important page from the history of our country and is a story of romance and adventure told with all the patriotic airs of the war-times. Sigmund Romberg, the composer of "Blossom Time," "The Student Prince," "The Desert Song" and many other musical hits is also responsible for the score of "My Maryland." Dorothy Donnelly wrote the book and lyrics and between them they have sculptured in "My Maryland" a melodious composition and moulded a story of thrills and suspense and with the war as a background have introduced some atmospheric touches that are admirably projected by a cast of 100 singers and players.

When Day Is Done

Are you, like most women, on your feet every minute of the day? Or do you work at a desk, bent over a typewriter? Your body probably aches from being in one posture for hours. Then is the time, just before dinner, to VITA-lize. Cramped muscles straighten out, fatigue vanishes, feet cease to ache. Here is a relief undreamt of. And because VITA-lizing is effortless, it restores without tiring. Your evenings will be delightful, no matter how hard the day, if you own a VITA.

Demonstrating the method of applying VITA treatments to feet, ankles and calves. Very beneficial in cases of fallen arches.

For Sportswomen

The necessity of keeping in condition is appreciated by all who enjoy outdoor sports. The use of VITA at home makes it possible to participate in sports without danger of becoming over-fatigued.

The fascination of golf is that we never get enough; no one except the professional can play every day. Many golfers have found that VITA keeps the wrists, arms and shoulders supple on the days between. As a result, you can step up to the first tee on Saturday, confident of a full, easy swing. Similarly in any sport—riding, skating, tennis, etc.—one need not fear strained ligaments or muscles.

VITA is as necessary to the sportswomen as it is to those who cannot indulge in sports.

The VITA Habit

You can acquire the VITA habit as easily as any routine of the daily toilet. Anyone can use the VITA safely and beneficially—the great advantage being the ability to apply the treatment where you wish without effecting any other part of the body.

For those who feel they cannot afford the VITA at present—arrangements can be made at our Corset Department for treatments on easy terms.

COUNTY REPORT SHOWS 1,159.66 MILES OF ROAD

State Highways Cover
172.72 Miles, Kirk
Says.

MAP PREPARED

Commissioners Discuss
Program for Next
Two Years.

There are 1,159.66 miles of roads in Columbiana county, according to a detailed report just filed with the commissioners by Surveyor Lloyd A. Kirk of Lisbon.

Of this mileage, 172.72 are state and 986.94 county highways. The state has 159.65 miles of macadam road, the remainder being gravel, slag, stone or dirt links.

In addition, trustees of 18 townships have 700 miles of dirt roads under their supervision.

These figures do not include roads now under contract.

Five new concrete roads are to be built in the county this season. Construction work will start as soon as weather permits.

A new road map of the county, now being prepared by Surveyor Kirk, will not be ready for distribution for probably a month.

Commissioners are now discussing a road building program that will probably continue into 1930.

Von Huenefeld's Death

As America rejoiced today over Col. Charles A. Lindbergh's blazing of the air mail trail from Miami, Fla., to Cristobal, Panama Canal Zone, and New York paid tribute to Captain Frank Hawks and his mechanic, Oscar E. Grubb, who broke the non-stop record for a flight from Los Angeles to New York, Germany mourned the death of Baron Ehrenfried Gunther von Huenefeld, one of the three airmen who made the first successful east to west hop across the Atlantic last April.

Baron von Huenefeld, who accompanied Captain Herman Koehl and Major James E. Fitzmaurice in the Bremen's epochal flight, died in a Berlin sanitarium following an operation. He had been in ill health for many months.

The baron, who was known as an ardent patriot, a loyal adherent of the imperial regime and a close friend of the former crown prince, was feted in New York and other parts of the world for his part in the east-to-west air voyage.

The name of Baron von Huenefeld, who was inspired by Col. Lindbergh's successful air voyage from New York to Paris, will live in aviation history.

Governmental Economies

President Coolidge has good ground, in addressing the business organization of the government in Washington, for speaking with pride of the drastic economies which have been worked in eight years under the budget system and for deprecating the rapidly mounting expenditures of state and municipal governments.

Preceding a solemn warning that much is yet to be done in the way of exercising economy to accomplish the wiping out of our national debt of $17,000,000,000, the president pointed to the following accomplishments of the federal government in the last eight years:

Expenditures reduced from $5,000,000,000 to $3,000,000,000 annually.
Debt reduced by $6,667,000,000.
Interest saved, $963,000,000.
Saved for the people, $2,000,000,000 in taxation.
Relieved 2,500,000 persons from federal taxation altogether.

"The greatest menace to the continuance of prosperity," the president held, "is the steady drain of state and local finances on the earnings of the people, which has increased by leaps and bounds as the burden of the national debt and national expenditures has been lightened."

"It is a red flag warning us of the danger of depression and a repetition of the disaster which overtook the country in the closing days of 1920," President Coolidge declared. "It is a warning that should be heeded by every one entrusted with the expenditure or appropriation of public funds."

"It is the reason that further commitments by the national government for any new projects not absolutely necessary should be steadfastly resisted."

The president has given repeated warnings of the menace which lurks in the lavish expenditures of states and municipalities. So have the governors of the various states, our own governor among them. The newspapers of the land have editorially given notice of the threatening situation; economists and financial writers have spoken and written in similar vein. And yet, the mad orgy of spending goes on just as though there is never to be a day of reckoning.

Reforms, philanthropies, improvements, social services—all the things over and above the essentials—which go to increase the tax burden may be favorably considered as desirable if there is in sight the means of paying for them, but if financial disaster is to be averted, states and municipalities must soon cease mortgaging the future to meet present-day demands for non-essentials.

Nothing In Superstition

The Dollar Steamship line is having more than its share of hard luck. First, the President Adams went ashore at the Atlantic entrance of the Panama canal, then the President Garfield struck the Mantilla reef in the Bahamas, and within another ten days fire swept the hold of the President Johnson at Jersey City, claiming the lives of two junior engineers and sending four other members of her crew to a hospital.

Thus the superstitions have another trilogy of accidents to sustain the long-time contention that mishaps, misfortunes and accidents always come by threes; that when one occurs, two more are sure to follow.

How this superstition was given birth is not known, but it is of so many years' standing that it is accepted by some to be as certain of fulfillment as the certainty of death and taxes. Possibly it had its origin in a succession of accidents or mishaps which came in series of threes and made an impression which was augmented and intensified by each succeeding similar series noted. In time it was probably passed about by word of mouth until it became a tradition which was spread throughout the land and accepted as certain as truth itself.

All of us, if we but stop to think, will realize by our own experiences that there is absolutely nothing in the superstition. All of us have suffered accidents, mishaps or misfortunes which possibly have not been succeeded in years by others. In fact, many of us have suffered misfortunes which have been succeeded by a long line of fortunate circumstances, occurrences and benefits. Yet such is human nature that we forget the rule and are impressed only by the occasional exception of a series of three.

Frances Porter, the show girl who took a trip down to Havana with Millionaire Whitehead on his yacht, wants only $250,000 "for breach of contract, false arrest, character defamation and breach of promise." How moderate!

Even in exile Leon Trotsky finds life is no bed of roses. The banished radical was a passenger aboard a vessel which was disabled in the gale-swept Black sea Saturday.

Two more names for the Hall of Fame: Captain Frank M. Hawks, of Houston, Texas, and Oscar E. Grubb, his mechanic, who broke the coast-to-coast non-stop flight record.

HASKIN DAILY LETTER

By Frederick J. Haskin

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 7.—The Panama canal now is paying approximately ten per cent on its original cost and in another year the expense of building it will in all probability have been returned to the treasury. The original cost of the canal, its machinery, approaches, and general accessories was $242,000,000. This is what might be termed the business investment made by the United States in the water way. The fortifications' cost is not included in the figure, as that cost ever was expected to earn anything, being an outright expense on account of national defense.

For the fiscal year 1928 the canal broke all records with the passage of 6456 vessels which paid tolls aggregating $26,944,500. The Panama canal was opened to traffic on August 15, 1914, when the last barrier was blown up with high explosive touched off with appropriate ceremonies. Traffic for the remainder of 1914 and for 1915 was lumped together in the reports and showed passage of 1075 vessels paying tolls of $4,367,550. The next year, 1916, was the canal's hard luck year when the great slides kept the waterway closed to traffic for approximately seven months. For that year there were only 758 transits from which $2,498,090 was collected in tolls.

From then on the number of transits and the amount of tolls collected began to climb. In 1918 the transits passed the 2000 mark. In some years there were slight setbacks but nothing serious and in the later years transits and collections have grown by leaps and bounds. For example in 1922 there were 2736 transits paying $11,197,832 in tolls and in 1928 more than twice that volume of business. The last year showed 6456 transits paying $26,944,500 in tolls.

Aggregate tolls collected since the opening of the canal fourteen years ago have amounted to $193,367,728. If business continues to increase at the previous rate of acceleration it seems wholly possible that the next fiscal year will show that the whole cost of $242,000,000 has been repaid.

American warships are exempt from the payment of tolls. Had tolls been collected from all such vessels on the same basis as commercial, privately-owned ships, the canal would have been paid for now in all probability. For example in the last year 450 United States government vessels passed through the canal. It is figured that had tolls been collected from all exempt vessels, $8,967,000 would have been added to earnings for 1928 alone.

Tolls are based on the net tonnage of vessels. The charge is $120 per ton for ships laden with cargo but only 72 cents per ton for vessels in ballast. In view of this toll basis the prospect for steadily increasing earnings can be estimated by an examination of the plans of shipping companies. The larger the ship, the more toll is collected. The Panama Pacific liner is shortly putting two new 35,000-ton ships in service on Panama canal routes. The Panama Mail, Grace Line, Roosevelt Steamship company, and American Hawaiian line are among American flag shipping companies planning increases in their services. The Shaw Savill and the Albion lines, British owned, are putting three new ships in service on the canal route next summer and the New Zealand Shipping company is inaugurating its maiden voyage between England and New Zealand this month. The Hamburg American line is building four 9,000-ton ships, the North German Lloyd two new 12,000-ton ships, the East Asiatic company two 10,000-ton ships, and the French Compagnie Generale Transatlantique three 11,000-ton vessels, all designed for the Panama route, while the Osaka Shosen Kaisha of Japan has announced construction of two 17,000-ton ships, and the Navigazione Generale Italiana one of 13,000 tons.

As is natural, ships flying the American flag make the most use of the Panama canal. In 1928, 2753 American ships passed through the canal paying a total of $12,615,880. British ships came second with 1842 passages paying $8,073,816. Ships of other nations have used the canal in the following order: Germany, Norway, Japan, Holland, France, Italy, Sweden, Denmark, and Jugo-Slavia. No country of South or Central America sent ships through the canal in sufficient number to be listed separately.

As compared with 1927, every country showed an increase in the number of its ships transiting the canal. The most striking increase is shown by the last country on the list, Jugo-Slavia, whose use of the canal in 1928 was 274 per cent greater than in the previous year. In 1927 Jugo-Slavia sent 14 ships through the canal and in 1928, 53. It is the more remarkable because Jugo-Slavia has not previously been a maritime nation of importance having no important seaports and a rockbound and almost harborless coast.

Although the Suez canal was opened back in 1869 and is a sea-level waterway requiring no locks, traffic through the Panama canal now is greater. In 1927, the latest year for which figures are available, 5544 ships passed through the Suez canal while Panama transits numbered 6085, or an excess of 541. Moreover, 421,000 more tons of cargo passed through the Panama than the Suez. But Suez tolls are much higher, exceeding Panama collections by approximately 60 per cent.

NEW YORK Day By Day

By O. O. McIntyre.

LONDON, Feb. 7.—Poverty has that miasma thickness of fog in London's West End and zero in human squalor is reached around the East India Road docks and in the causeways of Limehouse. Faces of the gnarled and listless men are changed by the alchemy of alcohol into flabby blobs—like a kidney.

The ale guzzling women are large bodied, hard breathing and loud voiced, constantly haranguing undernourished children who appear whipped by life. In the famous Whitechapel district this morning a Salvationist tried to lift a thin, tired voice above the sidewalk mockery. She finally gave up amid jeers.

Whitechapel is too steeped in the glut of materialism to heed the call of the spirit. And London, ever haughty and aloof, appears to the stranger to have scant sympathy for its poor. It seems to follow the Serbian proverb: "He who weeps for the world will soon have no eyes."

Indeed, nothing is so fascinating to the Britisher as pomp and glory of royal purple and in this he merely follows the deep rooted hereditary customs. He is vastly more disturbed because the queen has not had her afternoon drive or walk than he is by a thousand empty stomachs in Cheapside.

The monarchial appeal is insidious. In America we would class it as a species of high powered press agency. In every stratum the knee bends to the Crown. One is unconsciously awed. This hope-deed is reflected by the press, the church, the business world, theater and café—everything.

So alluring is the gesture the visitor is immediately gripped by it. About the first thing he does is hire a hack for a drive to Buckingham palace, nursing a secret year for a peep at royalty. I once rode in a blinding rain to Windsor to see the king who—Hail his Majesty—after all is knock-kneed.

My cicerone to the West End—a Fleet street scribbler—escorted me to a tea room conducted by a Chinese. It is a reputed rendezvous for American drug addicts. The only two patrons there were fairly well known Broadway actresses. Whether they are addicts I do not know. Nor, being the polite boy I am, I did not ask.

In my mail I find a letter from Charlotte, N. C., requesting an article on tuberculosis. Every request of this sort gives me a thrill of unhappiness. I am not unhappy because someone has asked for an article, but because such a request is founded on the experience of some unfortunate. This letter leads me to suspect that the writer may have tuberculosis, or fears she may have it.

Or it may be that this letter comes from an anxious mother who fears one of her dear ones is threatened with this disease. There may be a case of tuberculosis in the neighborhood and she wonders what effect it may have on her own family.

It is a disease far less prevalent than it was even a generation ago. Public health education has borne fruit in the prevention and control of tuberculosis. It was not long ago that one funeral out of seven was held for somebody who had died of this disease. This is not the case today, I am delighted to say. Tuberculosis is rapidly declining as a cause of death. We may hope for a day not far off when tuberculosis will be as rare as smallpox.

Unfortunately, we cannot guard against tuberculosis as we do against smallpox. While much work has been done by the laboratories to find a method of inoculating against tuberculosis, the results have not been wholly encouraging. The efforts of the research worker continue, however, and it is probable will be crowned with success.

In talking with a physician the other day, he spoke of a certain remedy, not for tuberculosis, but for some other ailment. The doctor said this is the most expensive medicine used by the profession. It is so expensive, indeed, that poor people can ill afford to pay for it.

I am glad to tell you, however, that when it comes to the prevention and cure of tuberculosis, no serious outlay of money is involved. Nature has provided the remedy. The secret lies in the right living. The things that will prevent and cure tuberculosis, are the things that will prevent almost every disease. Sunlight is the great panacea. The germs of tuberculosis exposed to the direct rays of the sun will die in a few hours.

Fresh air, wholesome, nourishing food, including milk and eggs, and lots of rest—in these are the means of protection against tuberculosis. When given to the victim of the disease, they go far toward the recovery.

Answers to Health Queries.

P. R. Q.—What would be best for bathing the eyes—warm or cold water?

2.—Would Epsom salts be helpful for bathing the feet?

3.—Is toast constipating?

A.—A warm solution of boracic acid used several times daily should be helpful. Any further advice should be given after an examination of the eyes.

2.—For what purpose? This is sometimes advised for a rheumatic condition with good results.

3.—Yes, as a rule.

Most of the stumbling blocks in the way of human progress are blockheads.—Coshoccon Tribune.

It requires harder work and more years for the man lacking school advantages to get to the top. But with night schools and ability to do careful reading, a man who is in earnest can accomplish a great deal along any line he may wish.

You may not have been able to go to school while of school age, but that does not bar you from study as you can find time and opportunity.

Of course, a man doing hard physical labor cannot study while thus engaged.

But there are several hours each day that might be devoted to self-improvement if a man would think out what he lacks and apply himself to get it.

There is such a thing as self-education.

Many of the greatest men in the country had to wrest success that way.

He who remembers the ancient race of cobblers remembers mouths full of pegs and wisdom. Their shops were centers of conversation, to which the cobblers' main contribution was silence, interrupted, if at all, by a brief gnome utterance.

Before the trades and professions were differentiated in the Colonies, John Adams' father, farmer, cordwainer, town officer, was of a broader type, but true to essentials. So leather or prunello, against which we are not to be prejudiced because Mr. Pope was hard up for a rhyme, has given us one president. Doubtless the awl and lapstone deserve a place in the scutcheons of some other presidents.

Henry Wilson is the one shoemaker vice president that comes to mind. There may be others. To be a good cobbler is to be a skilled craftsman, whereas to be a vice president has sometimes been the gift of chance or fortune, geography or a weary convention.

Emerson said that there is one thing greater than a great man, and that is his friend. That puts Mr. James Lucey, for many years Mr. Coolidge's gamelied, in a place his modesty would disclaim. But how can he contradict successfully the president's letter after the 1924 election: "If it were not for you, I should not be here." Foreign War Veterans Plan to Beautify City Lot Now Used As "Auto Graveyard"

Hedge, Dahlias and Hydrangeas to be Planted At Third and Market Streets.

Officers of Private Eddy Post, No. 66, Veterans of Foreign Wars, today approved plans for beautifying the city-owned property at the northeast corner of Third and Market streets, opposite city hall, now being used as a "graveyard" for ownerless automobiles.

Hedge is to be planted along the west and south sides of the tract which is about 80 feet square. An iron fence will be erected on the property line on the north and east sides. Inside of the iron fence will be planted dahlias, hydrangeas, other garden flowers and eight evergreen trees.

In the center of the tract, a concrete or a stone foundation will be constructed, on which the old city hall bell, now resting in a junk heap outside the building, will be placed. The bell, which hung in the belfry of city hall for 40 years, was cracked in the rejoicing over the signing of the armistice, 10 years ago. Because of the part it played in the two-day celebration it has been termed the "liberty bell."

The brick walk, which crosses the lot from Market to Third street, will be removed and the ground seeded. Entrance to the lot will be by means of a gate in the hedge fence which will be provided on the Market street side.

REPENT, WARNS REV. E. C. ONEY

"Solemn Reflection" Topic at Nazarene Church.

Evangelist Edward C. Oney, of Rush, Ky., spoke on "A Solemn Reflection," last night in the revival in the Church of the Nazarene, Washington street. Music was in charge of the male quartet, junior choir and church orchestra.

The evangelist said in part: "Men trifle with the warnings of God's word and seem to think they will never reap the wrath of God as a reward for their evil ways. The sites of Sodom and Gomorah now covered by the Dead Sea bear mute and awful testimony to the judgments of Almighty God upon the peoples of those ungodly cities. It is only by the mercy of a loving God that swift judgments such as this are not visited upon evil-doers of today. But shortly, unless they repent, the pent-up wrath of justice like a mighty Niagara will swamp them into the vortex of hell."

"Men call fearful catastrophes and awful calamities accidents," but many, if not all, of them are the outcroppings of the lightning of the terrible storm that is gathering in the distance to sweep back over a doomed and Godless world. Repent and fly to God for pardon before it is too late."

Tonight the Rev. Mr. Oney will speak on "God's Wrath." The Rev. F. F. Freese announced today that "Potters' night" will be observed Friday when delegations will be present from Newell plants.

33 PATHANS SLAIN IN RIOT

Hindu Mobs Injured 327 Others in Bombay.

LONDON, Feb. 7.—With 33 Pathans dead and 327 injured as the result of attacks upon them by infuriated mobs of Hindu laborers, additional British troops have been called out to the riots which have been in progress in Bombay for several days, an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from that city stated today.

The riots started following rumors that the Pathans had attempted to kidnap Hindu children for human sacrifices. Later it was reported that the Hindus were infuriated at the Pathans because the latter had acted as strikebreakers in a recent strike.

The situation now takes on the aspect of a religious war. It is reported that the Hindu attacks are really a form of revenge for alleged damaging of Hindu temples by Pathans.

ENDS COLD QUICK WAY DOCTORS NOW ADVISE

Tempting Taste! Instant Relief —Then Cold Quickly Disappears When Treated This Way

No longer is it necessary for colds to cause needless misery or risk of pneumonia, according to experiences of numbers of East Liverpool people. For doctors are now advising home use of a pleasant hospital method that gives almost instant relief—then quickly drives the cold out of one's system.

Mrs. Alice McNeill, for example, neglected a cold because it was mild at first. A day later congestion started to spread rapidly; she felt "achy" and feared pneumonia. On the advice of her doctor then she started using double strength doses of Ayer's Pectoral—a hospital-certified medication of wild cherry, terpin-hydrate and other ingredients now used by leading clinics.

Relief began instantly! With the first pleasant swallow she felt its comforting, healing warmth—from her nose passages deep down into her chest. In a few hours the "feverish," "achy" feeling was relieved; congestion began to clear up, and in another day or so, the doctor reports, all trace of the cold was gone.

Note: Other cases reported daily—all certified by attending physician.

Just a few pleasant spoonfuls of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral now and you, too, will feel like a new person tomorrow. At all drugists, 60c; or twice as much in $1.00 hospital size.

AN EASY WAY TO LOSE FAT

Instead of abnormal exercise or diet, they combat a cause of excess fat. They supply an element Nature employs to turn food into fuel and energy. This method was discovered by research men some two decades ago. It has for 20 years been embodied in Marmola prescription tablets. Millions of boxes have been taken, and almost every circle shows the results in new beauty, new health and vitality. The formula comes in every box, also the scientific reasons for results. So users have no fear of harm. Go learn now what Marmola does for excess fat, and why. Your druggist supplies it at $1 per box. Take four tablets daily and watch the change.

Puts An End To Bunion Pains

No Need to Suffer Another Day

There is one simple yet inexpensive way to reduce inflammation of swollen toe joints and help get them down to normal and that is to apply Moone's Emerald Oil night and morning.

Ask any first class druggist for an original two-ounce bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil (full strength) and refuse to accept anything in its place. It is such a highly concentrated preparation that two ounces lasts a long time and furthermore if one bottle of Emerald Oil does not give you complete satisfaction you can have your money refunded.

Special note: People who want to reduce swollen or varicose veins should get a bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil at once. Applied night and morning as directed they will quickly notice an improvement which will continue until the veins and bunches are reduced to normal.—Adv.

"I sure was right — I lit a Lucky"

"So many people have made a fuss over me because in rowing back to the 'America,' after we had picked up the 'Florida' survivors, I was smoking a Lucky Strike. I can't see why there should be any excitement about this—it was the natural thing for me to do. Before we started out from the 'America' I made sure that my pack of Luckies was with me—I wanted the comfort and pleasure of Luckies no matter what happened. I sure was right. I'll have to admit that after we picked up the 'Florida' crew and started back, my nerves were completely let down. So I did the thing I always do at such times—I lit a Lucky. As long as I live, I'll never get another kick as I did from the sweet old toasted flavor of that Lucky as we were tossing about on the old Atlantic. I'm a hundred percent when it comes to 'reach for a Lucky instead of a sweet.' I lay off the things that would make me flabby and light up a Lucky instead. There's too much action going on in my life to have me moving around with a lot of excess weight which I don't need. There's another thing about Luckies. The toasting process, in removing the impurities, is a blessing to us who follow the sea. It prevents throat irritation which is a constant nuisance to those who are regularly exposed to salt air."

Very Severe Eczema on Baby's Cheeks. Healed by Cuticura.

"When baby was one month old eczema broke out in pimples on her cheeks. It itched and burned so badly that she scratched all the time. After scratching it formed blisters, and later wet, sore eruptions. It was very severe and she could not sleep. She was cross and fretful and I had to tie her hands to keep her from scratching. The trouble lasted about four months.

"I tried a good many remedies but they did not do any good. I began using Cuticura Soap and Ointment and in three days could see an improvement, and in two weeks she was completely healed." (Signed) Mrs. Steve Slinka, Rt. 1, Beckett, Ohio, Nov. 17, 1928.

Rinso

Saves clothes - saves hands

(Thousands write us letters like this)
"It's so economical" says Mrs. T. H. Browning of Beechwood

"My lands! How white Rinso washes clothes. I never saw anything like it. I just soak the wash in Rinso suds and everything comes out bright and snowy. So easy on me—and easy on the clothes. Another thing about Rinso: it's so economical. A little makes a lot of thick, creamy suds that last till the wash is done."

Mrs. T. H. Browning, Beechwood, East Liverpool, O.

Makers of 36 washers endorse Rinso

A compact, granulated soap—cupful for cupful, Rinso gives twice as much suds, does twice as much work, as lightweight, puffed-up soaps. And what suds! Thick and creamy in hardest water. No wonder the makers of 36 leading washing machines say, "Use Rinso." Get the BIG package today!

Society Events

ANNOUNCEMENT has been made of the marriage of Miss Marie Canne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Canne of Sixth street, and William B. Mix, also of this city. The ceremony took place Monday, January 28, in the Methodist Episcopal church in Minerva, with the Rev. T. M. Sellers officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. Mix are spending their honeymoon in the west. They will be at home to friends in the Betz apartment, Market street, after February 15.

The bridegroom is purchasing agent for Rock Springs park.

Mrs. Sadie Lentz Hostess.

A short business session was held by the All-American club last night in the home of Mrs. Sadie Lentz, East Fifth street. During the social hours, a guessing contest was won by Mrs. Mamie Weaver. Vocal selections were given by Miss Jean Cowles and George Esenbuth, accompanied by Mrs. George Esenbuth.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mesdames Florence Wallace and Leslie Tatgenhorst, covers being arranged for 20.

Mesdames Olive Clark and Nannie Leaf; Misses Jeannette Dawson and June Tatgenhorst, and Billy Dietz and Richard Bennett were guests.

The next meeting will be held in two weeks in the home of Mrs. Ethel Potts, Negley street.

BETWEEN YOU AND ME

A close friend may be a precious possession but most of us prefer one who will loosen up occasionally.

IN FEBRUARY'S ISSUE of the Ladies Home Journal the Street Slumber Chair was advertised for the first time. Today you may see this distinctive Cogsell in four attractive upholstery combinations in the display window of The Crook Furniture Co. but listen . . . don't be content with merely a look . . . please step inside and sit in one of them. That's exactly what I did and never before did I find a chair so gloriously comfortable. The special introductory offer for February only, makes the price as tempting as the chair itself.

ARE YOU CONTINUALLY HELD BACK by some physical discomfort? Are there many times when you feel positively unfit for the tasks awaiting you? Then come with me to Ogilvie's . . . up to the Corset department. There's the machine which will interest you. It is called "VITA" which you know means life or affecting life and it has helped thousands regain as well as retain their health. I'm positive it will help you because it's vibratory action stimulates the blood supply to any part of the body . . . energizes the system and creates strong, healthy tissues. Ten Vita treatments cost only $5.00.

NO LONGER NEED THE HOME where musical talent is recognized and encouraged he denied the possession of a Gulbrandsen Grand Piano. The New Home Culture Model is within easy reach of the most limited income. The Smith-Phillips Music Co. will be pleased to tell you all about this piano which promises to be greatly-favored by many homes throughout the vicinity.

COMMENCING TODAY "Show People" with Marion Davies and William Haines will be the feature of entertainment at the STATE . . . the Vitaphone Palace. There is a splendid picture showing at the American Theater all this week. It is "CONQUEST" with Monte Blue supported by an all-star cast. It is an all-talking picture.

EMBARRASSING MOMENT . . . when your engine stalled . . . holding up a long line of cars . . . GREAT GRIEF! There stood the traffic cop waving impatiently for you to go on (as if you could). Then some kind friend honks his horn several times as though you were awaiting just that signal to start. Terribly nerve-racking. I'll agree. Situations like this call for Sohio Ethyl Gasoline. Stop at the Milliron Filling Station and have them fill your tank with the fuel that doesn't permit stalling . . . that helps you get away quickly and breeze up a hill on high.

I HEARD A LADY REMARK that the CANTILEVER shoe was her favorite. Perhaps it is also your choice. As a bearer of news I'd like to tell you that these shoes of quality plus stylish comfort have all been reduced to $9.85 a pair during the Clearance Sale at Bendheim's Shoe Store.

I'VE TOLD YOU QUITE OFTEN about the Marinello Facial and Scalp Treatment, but never have I mentioned the Manicure. I beg your pardon. Such a Manicure as those given at the Stern Beauty Shoppe will convince you that Marinello operators are specialists in all branches of beauty culture. Why not have your nails dressed professionally for your next social event? Call 559. They are very gracious about making an appointment suit your convenience.

WHEN YOU BECOME A DEPOSITOR at The First National you choose a Bank that is safe and well-established in the esteem of the people who discriminate . . . one that is progressive and grows steadily from year to year . . . one whose officers and employees are affable, friendly and courteous and who welcome an opportunity to serve you.

ARE YOU ACQUAINTED WITH "LAUNGEROL"? It is an olive oil liquid soap, I chanced upon at Carnahan's Drug Store and it was made expressly for washing silks, hosiery, rayons and woolsens. I've tried it and like it much better than the soap flakes and it is every bit as economical. A generous bottle costs only 35 cents, which means you'll be washing all the things you prize with Lauengerol.

Reception for Assistant Pastor. Honoring the Rev. Charles R. Loney, assistant pastor of the Methodist Episcopal church, women of the church will entertain with a reception in the social room tomorrow night at 8 o'clock. Young people will be guests. A program has been arranged by Mesdames T. C. Flick and Homer J. Taylor. Refreshments will be served.

Plan Quilt Exhibit. A quilt and antique exhibit will be featured by the Woman's Home Missionary society of the First Methodist Episcopal church tomorrow afternoon

AFRAID OF GALL STONES

Note These Symptoms.

Dizziness, nausea, biliousness, headache, gas in stomach and bowels, fullness and pain in right side, constipation and diarrhea—these are the danger signs of gall bladder trouble and gall stones.

Klax-Ko a simple home treatment gets at that condition and corrects it. It clears congested bile ducts, stimulates a lazy liver and frees the gall bladder of thick congested bile and the salt formations which are the cause of gall stones. Klax-Ko brings about a free flow of healthful bile thus cleansing the intestines of all poisons. Digestion is put in order and symptoms disappear, for pure bile is nature's intestinal cleanser.

Do not endanger your health. Relief in 3 to 5 days and complete success in 30 days is often the case. Guaranteed to help you or money refunded. Ask for Klax-Ko today at Carnahan Drug Co. or any other good druggist.

at 2:30 o'clock in the social room of the church. Mrs. Frank Crook and her group will be in charge of the quilt display, while Mrs. William King and Miss Nell Dawson will be in charge of the antiques. A program arranged by Mrs. Homer J. Taylor will be presented. Refreshments will be served by Mesdames W. T. McNutt and R. O. Stewart. The public is invited to attend.

What Will you do
When your Children Cry for It

There is hardly a household that hasn't heard of Castoria! At least five million homes are never without it. If there are children in your family, there's almost daily need of its comfort. And any night may find you very thankful there's a bottle in the house. Just a few drops, and that colic or constipation is relieved; or diarrhea checked. A vegetable product; a baby remedy meant for young folks. Castoria is about the only thing you have ever heard doctors advise giving to infants. Stronger medicines are dangerous to a tiny baby, however harmless they may be to grown-ups. Good old Castoria! Remember the name, and remember to buy it. It may spare you a sleepless, anxious night. It is always ready, always safe to use; in emergencies, or for everyday ailments. Any hour of the day or night that Baby becomes fretful, or restless, Castoria was never more popular with mothers than it is today. Every drug-gist has it.

OHIO SENATE ASKS CHANGE IN RADIO WAVE

Resolution Memorializing Congress Awaits House Action.

JOINT PROPOSAL

Improvement Urged in State Broadcasting Situation.

By C. H. HADDOX
COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 7.—The joint resolution memorializing congress to amend the federal radio law so as to provide for the reallocation of wave channels upon the basis of population of various states, today awaited action in the Ohio house of representatives.

This resolution, introduced by Senator Robert L. Rohr, Tiffin, was adopted by the senate late yesterday by a vote of 24 to 1.

Supporters of this resolution asserted that the proposed action by congress would materially improve the radio broadcasting situation in Ohio.

Committees Get New Measures
New measures which are to be referred to legislative committees include:

The Johnson bill pending in the senate, requiring merchants to keep a record of applications for the purchase of firearms and to record all sales of firearms.

House bills authorizing establishment of "credit unions" under supervision of the state securities department raising the age limit of women prisoners at state institutions from 16 to 17 years providing two sets of election booth officials in cities of more than 300,000 population; requiring a bill of sale to be given in event of sale, or change in ownership, of poultry; including moveable poultry houses, or any building not on permanent foundation, under the law defining burglary and house-breaking; authorizing municipalities to use part of the gasoline tax fund to provide parking space for motor vehicles in congested territory; to provide stop signs within 100 feet of a highway intersection.

Representative F. W. Piper, Belmont county, introduced a bill to make delinquent corporation taxes payable in the office of the attorney general instead of to the state treasurer. The measure is designed to speed up collection of these taxes.

Bills in House.
Representative Horace W. Cookston, Marion county, releasing boards of education from payment of money into the state teachers' retirement fund until the fund falls below $10,000,000. It now approximates $40,000,000.

Representative Russell H. Kewer, Wyandot county, providing for a uniform traffic code throughout the state.

Representative J. H. T. Gordon, Logan county, providing that the surveyor, in making estimates of the cost of ditches, shall apportion such cost in proportion as the cost of the project is increased by artificial drainage; permitting boards of education to build homes for superintendents, principals, teachers or janitors, either on rental basis, or part compensation allowance; providing that boards of education shall give ten days' notice before a new school district is established and provides that remonstrance may be filed with the director of education.

The house and senate reconvene this afternoon. No bills were passed in either legislative branch yesterday.

Man Held in Attack on Girl.
MARYSVILLE, O., Feb. 7.—Jess Reed, 28, of Marion, O., was in the county jail here today awaiting grand jury action on a charge of having attacked a 15-year-old girl in Richmond.

Arraigned before Justice H. Kinkead, Reed pleaded guilty to the charge, which was filed by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sloop, of Richmond, parents of the girl.

A sunfish, four feet two inches long, was recently washed ashore at Blakely, England.

EVERY AMERICAN AIRPORT SHOULD HAVE HOSTESS, SAYS GIRL FLIER

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—"Every airport in the United States should have a hostess."

So declared Miss Elinor Smith, attractive 17-year-old holder of the women's endurance flight record, in an exclusive interview today as she strolled about Grand Central palace viewing the latest models in airplanes displayed at the aviation show now in progress.

She also entertainingly discussed the growing interest of American girls in aviation, what she regards as the future of women in flying, her own idea of the correct woman's aviation costume and her aversion to being referred to by the press as "The Flying Flapper." She insists she is not a flapper.

"I think one of the greatest needs right now are hostesses at airports," said Miss Smith. "Every airport in the country should have one. At present there is only one hostess in the United States—Ruth Hayland of Kansas City, and she is proving they made no mistake in giving her the job. I confess I'd like to be a hostess myself after I've done a little more serious flying."

"Some day America's airports will have not only a hostess but four or five assistant hostesses. Nowadays unless you land at an army or navy airport you get no information of any kind. That is because no one is charged with the responsibility."

SUNDAY BUSSES REPORTS FROM TO YOUNGSTOWN STOCK MARKETS

Youngstown and Suburban Co. is Ready to Begin Service.

The Youngstown & Suburban Transportation company, of Youngstown, will inaugurate through service between Youngstown and East Liverpool beginning next Sunday, replacing motor coaches which have been running between this city and Rogers.

Buses will leave the East Liverpool terminal, Fifth and Market streets at 7:20, 9:30 and 11:20 a. m. and 1:20, 3:20 and 5:30 p. m. Returning, they will leave the coach terminal in Central square, Youngstown, at 7:20, 9:30 and 11:30 a. m. and 1:30, 3:30 and 5:30 p. m. The running time between terminals will be one hour and 35 minutes.

The route is via California Hollow, Camons Mills, Williamsport, Rogers, Middleton, North Lima and Boardman.

BUTCHER KNIFE ROUTS BANDIT

TOLEDO, O., Feb. 7.—On two occasions in recent months S. D. Tubbs, 59, proprietor of a chain grocery store, has been held up and robbed in his store.

When a third bandit visited Tubbs today, the grocer decided that it was time to "put a stop to this." He seized a butcher knife and gave battle to the intruder.

Although the bandit had leveled a pistol at Tubbs upon entering the store, he soon saw that his prey was not to be bluffed. So with the point of the sharp knife getting nearer every second, the bandit thrust the pistol into his pocket and fled.

Tubbs followed and his shouts attracted the attention of a patrolman, who joined in the chase. The officer followed the robber to the railroad yards, firing as he went, but the latter eluded him.

Saves Woman from Guillotine.

PARIS, Feb. 7.—President Doumergue of France today commuted the death sentence of Blanche Vabre to life imprisonment. She was condemned for the murder of her 14-year-old stepson whom she stabbed 15 times with a knife. She was one of four women in jail facing the guillotine.

the electricity bill would be paid by the city.

All wooden poles in the streets to be covered by the proposed system will be removed. Power company and telephone company lines will be routed through alleys, while trolley wires will be attached to the tops of the new standards, 22 feet from the base.

Require 60 Days To Install.

The lights will be erected at intervals of 100 feet apart. The wires will be run underground and to the socket through the inside of the standards. One pole on each of the four corners will be erected at Fifth and Market streets and Fifth and Washington streets. In the center of the Diamond, near the police booth, will be a two-light standard.

One-half of the lights will burn all night. The other half will be turned off at midnight from a central control point. The old street lighting system in the business district will be removed upon completion of the new system.

According to power company officials about 60 days will be required in the necessary construction work. An additional 60 days should be allowed for delivery of the standards.

Members of council, Mayor Benedum and John W. Moore represented the city at the conference. Ralph T. Couch and Attorney W. H. Vordrey appeared for the power company.

Legislation adopting the proposed new street lighting system probably will be considered at the next meeting of the lawmakers.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—There was no mistaking the effect of the reserve board's severe condemnation of the ballooning of speculative loans on the stock market prices this morning. An overnight accumulation of 1,000,000 shares of stock for sale produced one of the widest breaks in stock market history, with prices of the favorites crashing all the way from two to 13 points.

A block of 20,000 shares of United States Steel came out at 17½, a loss of six points from Wednesday's close, followed by a dozen or more 10,000 share lots of the favorites at big shrinkages in market values from the previous close.

Westinghouse lost 11 points at 148; General Electric crashed 17 points to 231; Case Threshing Machine 15 points to 450; Bethlehem Steel lost six points; Curtiss Aero 10; Kennecott Copper six, and Vanadium Steel 6½.

Calm consideration of the reserve board's "warning" found very little support for the position taken by the members of the board. Wall Street bankers stated clearly that business concerns here can borrow money at favorable rates and that the stock market is finding its own money, mostly in "outside sources." New York reserve member banks are loaning less than a dollar out of every five for stock market purposes.

never amount to much," and went to sleep.

EAMON DE VALERA, who insists that Ireland should be a republic, free of all British strings, is arrested trying to enter Ulster. The word "republic" is not popular in the north of Ireland.

PRIMO DE RIVERA, the Spanish dictator, says the upheaval in Spain amounts to nothing. The Spanish newspapers are muzzled, which indicates some trouble.

COL. BURY, assistant secretary for mines, said 2,000 miners needed in South Wales could not be obtained. Laborite members shouted "liar." The fashion was set by Tim Healy and other Irishmen in Gladstone's time.

J. PIERPONT MORGAN gives a New York hospital two buildings worth $2,000,000. Giving seems to be inherited, as illustrated also in the case of the Rockefellers.

Mr. Morgan's father gave to New York one of its finest institutions, a great lying in hospital.

SERIOUS rioting in India was caused by a report that Mohammedans kidnapped Hindu children and sacrificed them in connection with the construction of a new bridge. The report probably is not true.

ONCE important wars were usually accompanied by human sacrifices. Somebody was killed and buried under the corner of a new building. A child or adult was often killed and buried in a shallow hole in a field newly planted. Knowing nothing about fertilizers they observed with "religious awe" that the grass grew greener where the corpse was buried.

MME. BELLA POLLOCK died in Rumania, aged 118, leaving 21 children, the oldest 85, and a fiancé who would have been her third husband. Mme Pollock ate two and one-half pounds of black bread and a pound of sugar every day and was never ill until her last illness.

MEN often live longer when the doctor tells them that they will soon die. A warning makes them careful. James Melrose, twice lord mayor of York, England, is dead, aged 100. Insurance companies refused him as a bad risk 70 years ago.

The famous Luigi Cornaro became interested in his health when doctors told him at 40 that he must soon die. He ate only 12 ounces of solid food, drank 15 ounces of red wine daily, died at 104.

DEATH CHEATS PRISON TRIP

Ohioan Slashes Throat To Escape Walled City "Number."

BOWLING GREEN, O., Feb. 7.—Charles Laytard, 60, Weston, O., farmer, was to have entered the Ohio state penitentiary today.

Instead relatives were making arrangements for his burial, for Laytard, rather than become a "number" in the walled city, ended his life in the county jail here by slashing his throat and wrists.

Found guilty by a jury of shooting his wife, Mrs. Martha Laytard, at their farm home December 2, 1928, Laytard was sentenced to serve from three to twenty years in the penitentiary by Judge E. G. McClelland for intent to kill.

Laytard testified, at the trial, he had been drinking and had fallen asleep in the living room of his home with a revolver beside him. Dreaming of robbers, he said, he was startled by the arrival of his wife and accidentally shot her through the shoulder.

SEE REVENUE GAIN, COST CUT IN 59 BILLS

Legislative Committee Reveals Income of $6,226,000.

SAVE $1,178,000

Draft Recommendations On Appropriations And Budgeting.

By JOHN J. VINCENT.
COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 7.—More than $6,226,000 in additional revenue and a saving to the state of Ohio of $1,178,000 in present operating expenses will result if 40 bills introduced in the state legislature and 19 bills prepared for introduction in the joint committee on economy in the public service, are adopted and written into the Ohio statutes as laws.

This startling saving and increased revenue was made known today when the joint legislative committee compiled these figures.

It is pointed out by this committee that, in addition to the above sums, which, they claim, are in reality only 20 per cent of the total savings to the state, other savings totaling millions of dollars, will be made by following the committee's recommendations in regards to appropriations and budgeting.

Some of the high-lights in the committee's resolutions toward readjustment of the various offices, departments and institutions and in the abolishing of obsolete offices are contained in the following eight bills:

1. The bill to license motor vehicle operators.
2. The bill creating a department of public safety.
3. The bill to consolidate the emergency control board and the sundry claims board into a single board of finance.
4. The bill changing the Ohio fiscal year back to end June 30.
5. The bill creating a legislative reference division in the state public library.
6. The bill abolishing the office of commissioner of soldier claims.
7. The bill increasing the fee for motion picture censoring.
8. The bill transferring the division of the state bindery from the department of public welfare for operation in the Ohio state penitentiary.

KILLER CAUGHT

The drivers' license bill, it is reported, would provide the greatest additional revenue.

ASKS REFUND OF $100 BOND

Stephen Christian Named Former Court Clerk in Petition.

BEAVER, Pa., Feb. 7.—A petition for a rule to show why a $100 bail should not be returned was filed in court here yesterday by Attorney Harry B. Richardson, Beaver, counsel for Stephen Christian, Aliquippa, against Jacob B. Marshall, former Beaver county clerk of courts. The rule was granted by the court and made returnable Monday, Feb. 25.

Christian alleges that he posted $400 bond with Marshall when arrested on a criminal charge Sept. 12, 1927. Christian was found not guilty in December and applied at the clerk's office for the bail and deposit. Miss Wilhelmina Behnman, present clerk, told him that only $300 had been left her by Marshall when he retired from the office.

Don't Let a Cough or Cold Hang On-It's Dangerous Company

When nothing seems to do that lingering, bothersome cough any good just go to Carnahan's Drug Co. and get a bottle of Broncholine Emulsion. Take it as directed and notice how easily it overcomes that persistent cough that has caused you many sleepless nights.

It's a medicine compounded for the purpose of conquering tough, hang-coughs, and that's exactly what it does—quickly and thoroughly.

There is no dope in Broncholine Emulsion, nor chloroform, nor sugar—such things are only makeshifts and should be taken with the greatest caution.

For ordinary simple coughs two or three doses of Broncholine Emulsion is usually enough.—Adv.

WITH the last blemish gone, confidence returns. More friends—more invitations—more good times. With the joy and pride of possessing a clear skin, self-respect increases.

Everybody wants to be attractive. It is a just and natural ambition. But no one can be attractive without a clear skin.

Skilled physicians recognize the appearance of pimples, boils, eczema and other skin eruptions as being an indication that the body's power of resistance is low.

Rich, red blood builds and sustains. The sure way to remedy this condition is to restore the red-blood-cells to normal.

This is why so many thousands have been enabled to free themselves of these unsightly blemishes and painful skin annoyances by taking a course of S.S.S.

S.S.S. helps Nature restore the blood to its normal state. Healthy blood nourishes the body and works against infection and disease.

Without plenty of rich, red blood there could be no strong, sturdy, powerful men, or healthy, beautiful women.

S.S.S. proven record over 100 years

If you are troubled with so-called skin disorders, take a few bottles of S.S.S. Seek energy, vitality and a clear skin through the remedy, which is made from fresh vegetable drugs, and has stood the test of over 100 years.

All Drug Stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Ask for the larger size. It is more economical.

E. Liverpool Makes 90 Per Cent of U. S. Chinaware, Newell, W. Va., Salesman Says

V. D. Kinnan Explains Reason of Great Breakage in Cups and Saucers.

The New York Times, quoting V. D. Kinnan, salesman for the Edwin M. Knowles China company, of Newell and Chester, says 90 per cent of the chinaware manufactured in the United States is made in East Liverpool.

Continuing The Times says: "In a town of 20,000 population probably half the people are engaged in the pottery industry. There are 500,000 dozen pieces of china shipped during a month and 5,000 cups and saucers made each day by the Knowles organization.

"The reason so many cups and saucers are sold, explained Kinnan, is that breakage is greater in this line in china. Nobody feels very had if they smash a cup or a saucer, so they are less careful when washing this ware than with a dinner plate or a vegetable bowl.

"Tells of City's Settlement.

"East Liverpool was originally settled by English pottery makers, said Kinnan. The descendants of these original settlers of the pre-Civil war era in many cases resemble the typical American. These English people settled in that section of Ohio because of the availability of clay suitable to their needs. At present clay is shipped in from Florida, Georgia and several other states. Seven different constituents go into the making of china.

"We require skilled labor," continued Kinnan. The potters are a highly paid class of experts. We have very few jobs for unskilled labor. The journeyman, or apprentice system is employed. Pottery making is taught from generation to generation. Women do most of our decorating work. They comprise about half our employees."

Artists Design Patterns.

"Colors are playing a bigger factor

Colors are Bigger Factor in Dinnerware Than Ever Before, He Declares.

In dinnerware than ever before. Color has been used more in luncheon sets hitherto. The artists design the patterns and the department store stylist in the big cities veto or approve the styles in dishes just as in apparel. The public is fickle today and it keeps stylists busy anticipating their wants."

"Mr. Kinnan said that in the last two years the tunnel kiln had supplanted the old oven type. The pottery is put on a tram and kept rotating in the heat, which has enabled manufacturers to boost production. The tunnel kiln process is expensive. It cost the Knowles company $750,000 to install, so many smaller china manufacturers have been forced out of business."

RAILROAD MAN WELL AFTER 18 YEARS MISERY

Gratefully Indorses Master Konjola; Stomach Was Disordered; Previously Searched Vainly for Relief.

MR. J. J. BURKHART. "I don't know what I would have done without Konjola as it proved the only medicine, after eighteen years of misery, that benefited me," said Mr. J. J. Burkhart, 1860 Finch street, Toledo, Ohio.

"For eighteen years my stomach bothered me and two years ago I underwent an operation for appendicitis that left me rundown in general. I searched constantly for something to relieve me, but each attempt was met with failure. My stomach was painful all the time; it seemed as though something hot had formed, burning my stomach unbearably. My appetite vanished and food often nauseated me.

"I was certainly rewarded for having faith in Konjola, because this medicine brought amazing results. The pains diminished in a very short time and soon they disappeared entirely. That burning sensation vanished and my appetite increased. I eat as I choose now, and relish every bite. Not only has my relief been complete but I am sure it is permanent, too."

Konjola is sold in East Liverpool, O., at Carnahan's drug store and by all the best druggists throughout this entire section.—Adv.

$2,585 Pension Fund Paid Mill Veterans

Chester Plant Employees Share in United States Steel and Carnegie Distribution of $3,488,487.90.

CHESTER, W. Va., Feb. 7.—Eighteenth annual report of the United States Steel and Carnegie Pension fund, issued today, shows that $3,488,487.90 was distributed as pensions in 1928 among retired employees of the steel corporation and its subsidiaries. Of this sum, $2,585.40 was paid to veteran workers of the American Sheet and Tin Plate company here.

Carnegie Steel company was first among the subsidiaries in the amount paid to retired employees, the sum of $85,292.38. Some of the bigger subsidiary companies and their pension disbursements were: American Steel and Wire company, $671,339.85; American Sheet and Tin Plate company, $441,926.09; National Tube company, $383,320.85; H. C. Frick Coke company, $305,651.19; Illinois Steel company, $179,765.92; American Bridge company, $150,129.43; Oliver Iron Mining company, $128,726.15; Duluth & Iron Range Railroad company, $51,921.10; Tennessee Coal, Iron and Railroad company, $48,321.40; Elgin, Joliet and Eastern Railway company, $44,014.45; and Bessemer and Lake Erie Railroad company, $41,167.45.

There were 1,195 employees added to the pension roll during 1928 and 583 were removed from the list. At the close of the year there were 7,000 on the pension roll.

The average age of the 1,195 employees retired in 1928 was 63.86 years; their average period of service was 34.10 years, and the average monthly pension, $53.55.

The total amount paid in pensions since the inauguration of the pension plan on January 1, 1911, was $22,325,422.67.

The beneficiaries of the pension fund make no contribution to the fund, the latter being derived from a fund created jointly by Andrew Carnegie and the United States Steel corporation. The latter provides also whatever additional moneys may be required in the administration of the pension plan.

The pension fund applies to all employees of the United States Steel corporation and its subsidiary companies, numbering approximately 250,000.

GROGAN TO PAY DEATH PENALTY

Executive clemency for Henry Grogan, 18-year-old Negro, sentenced to be hanged tomorrow in Moundsville prison, for criminally assaulting Mrs. Earl Akers, Beckley normal school student, was denied yesterday by Governor Howard M. Gore.

The crime for which Grogan was convicted in the Raleigh county court, was committed on April 17, 1928. Mrs. Akers died after she had been discharged from a hospital where she had been treated for bullet wounds which authorities said were self-inflicted.

STATE LIQUOR BILL APPROVED

A bill designed to strengthen the state prohibition law was reported favorably yesterday at Charleston by the senate prohibition committee. The measure would prohibit the transportation by any common carrier of malt liquors or any mixture that might be used for the manufacture of alcoholic liquors.

Penalties for public drunkenness also would be increased and possession of home brew would be regarded as a violation of the law.

The office of the state prohibition commissioner would be abolished and his duties vested in the superintendent of state police under the provisions of a bill introduced in the house by Delegate C. Lance Marshall, of Fayette county.

Aid Society Meeting.

AVOID SODOM, REV. J. H. HUFF TELLS HEARERS

Nazarene Evangelist Speaks on Story of Lot.

GIRLS WARNED

Responsibility That Belongs to Women is Emphasized.

Though the inclement weather caused some decrease in the attendance at the Nazarene church revival in Chester, last night, a fine spirit prevailed and the sermon of the visiting evangelist, the Rev. J. H. Huff, of Olivet, Ill., deeply impressed his hearers. His subject was: "Dead-broke."

"And Lot pitched his tent towards Sodom," words from Genesis relating to activities of pre-Israel patriarchs founded his discourse.

As on former nights of the campaign, the singing was in charge of R. T. Eby, also of the evangelist's home town. He sang as a solo "Good-bye, Pharaoh," accompanied by Miss Olive Huff, also of the evangelistic party.

The invocation was made by Mrs.

James H. Ward, the wife of the church's pastor.

Tonight's Theme.
"Beholding Christ Upon His Throne" was announced as the theme of Rev. Mr. Huff for tonight. "Not only did Lot pitch unto Sodom, but he got into Sodom," declared the Rev. Mr. Huff. "And when he got into Sodom, Sodom got into him. He became a part of that great wicked city."

"It is ever thus. When men go to the devil, the devil always finds plenty for them to do."

In disclosing sin as functioning in Sodom he spoke warnings to present day young girls. "Those of you who essay marrying a young man who before the marriage has not respect for his future bride to give his heart to God will not in the nature of things usually do so afterwards."

He emphasized the great responsibility that belongs to women the world over, holding that it was in their hands to go far in making the world that which it should be spiritually and morally.

"Next to the power of God himself that of women is the greatest known in the earth," he said. "They can raise the moral standard of any community and likewise they can lower it."

Don't Compromise With Evil.

He showed how Lot, despite his prominence in Sodom, failed to reform the city. "Compromising with evil he lost his family and ultimately his material possessions. He finally in a most realistic sense became 'Dead broke.'"

"He had chosen the 'east' with its luxuriant vegetation rather than the 'west' which his uncle, Abraham, unselfishly accepted. Following the easier way his fall was consequently greater."

"And the basic truths that made for the down and out condition of Lot are the same now. To all who become equally 'deadbroke' morally and spiritually the result comes from flirtations with sin, innocently perhaps begun, but finally embraced until a state of helplessness has been reached.

"Only by the acceptance of Jesus Christ can present day Sodoms be avoided and entrance into them prevented."

Bandits are again busy in Spain.

Short Talk By a Thoughtful Mother. A Louisiana (New Orleans) Mother speaks: "Our child had a cough that almost strangled her. A kind neighbor brought in her bottle of Foley's Honey and Tar, and in a very short time it eased the dreadful paroxysms of coughing and made her comfortable. I recommend it as a valuable medicine, one that is free from opiates." Foley's Honey and Tar Compound checks croup, is invaluable for whooping cough, measles cough, and the heavy, wheezy breathing that accompanies many children's diseases. Your druggist sells it. Piles Disappear

No Cutting or Salves Needed. External treatments seldom banish Piles. Nor does cutting remove the cause. The cause is inside—bad circulation. The blood is stagnant, the veins flabby.

The bowel walls are weak, the parts almost dead. To quickly and safely rid yourself of piles you must free the circulation—send a fresh current through stagnant pools. Internal treatment is the one safe method. Ointments and cutting won't do it.

J. S. Leonhardt, M. D., a specialist, set at work some years ago to find a real internal remedy for piles. He succeeded. He named his prescription HEM-ROID, and tried it in 1000 cases before he was satisfied. Now HEM-ROID is sold by druggists everywhere under guarantee. It is a harmless tablet, easy to take, and can always be found at Mathews' Original Cut Rate, who will gladly refund the purchase price to any dissatisfied customer.—Adv.

Ends Gas Pains Sourness Acidity

Carnahan's Drug Co. Guarantees it and is Dispensing it to Many Stomach Sufferers

You can be so distressed with gas and fullness that you think your heart is going to stop beating. Your stomach may be so distended that your breathing is short and gaspy. You are dizzy and pray for quick relief—what's to be done?

Just one dessert spoonful of Dare's Mentha-Pepsin and in ten minutes the gas disappears, the pressing on the heart ceases and you can breathe deep and naturally.

Oh! What blessed relief, but why not get rid of such attacks altogether? Why have chronic indigestion at all? With this wonderful medicine you can banish indigestion or dyspepsia or any abnormal condition that keeps the stomach in constant rebellion and one bottle will prove it.

And how happy you will be when your stomach is as good as new for then dizziness, nervousness, sleeplessness, headache and other ailments caused by a disordered stomach will disappear and you will be your old, happy, contented self again. Carnahan's Drug Co., and every regular pharmacist guarantees one bottle of Dare's Mentha-Pepsin to show the way to stomach comfort.—Adv.

Each Drop Like a Whole Vegetable!

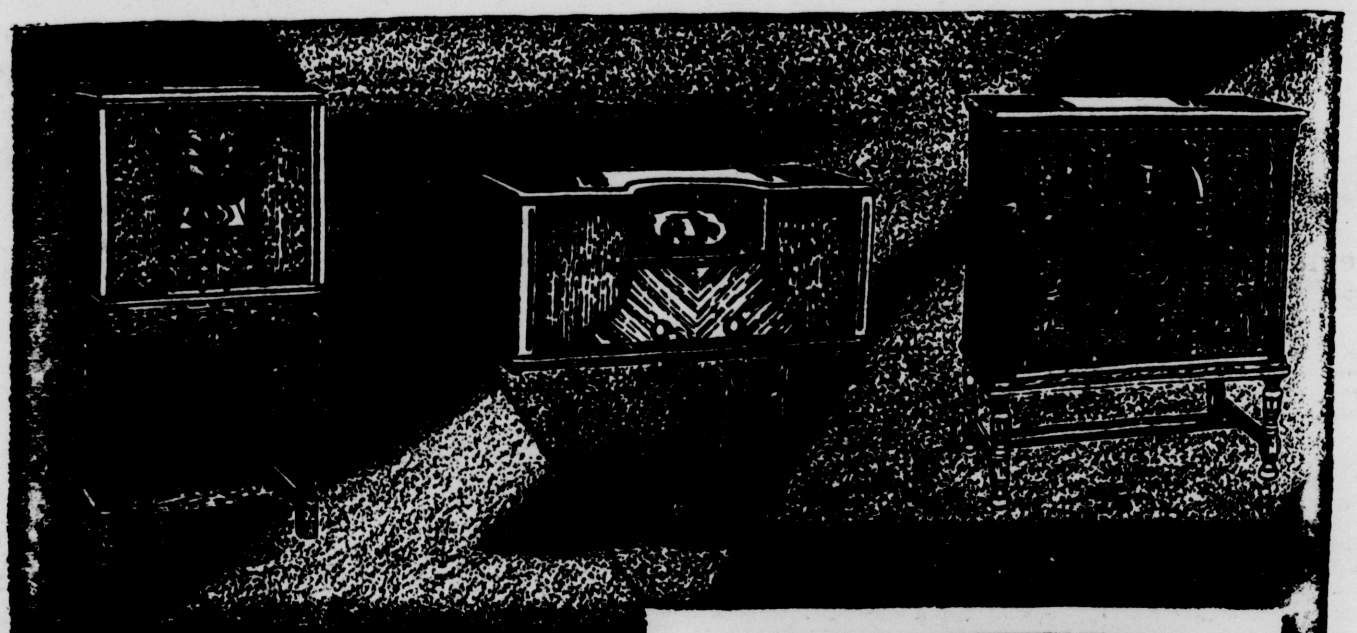

FRESH vegetables would give us all a state of health, if only we would eat enough of them. Few of us do. But here is a little secret about assisting the peristaltic action so vitally important to our health; there is enough in one spoon of plain syrup pepsin to fill a market basket!

Several factors affecting sound health are often ignored in the average person's diet. But add a little syrup pepsin now and then, and watch what happens! Your appetite improves, so does your digestion, and elimination. Lots of folks who thought they were in perfect physical condition see a tremendous change after ten days with syrup pepsin.

When a scientific, vegetable corrective can put you in fine physical form so quickly, and keep the whole alimentary tract cleansed and sweet and free from need of powerful purges—it surely is worth trying! An actual test can be made in ten days. In this short space of time your stomach, and liver and bowels can be in shape to handle anything that's eaten!

Children thrive on almost any diet when pure pepsin syrup is given just occasionally to help assimilation, and make elimination thorough and regular. Elderly people have a far easier time, too, where this ideal combination of laxative herbs and pure pepsin is appreciated. Dr. Caldwell discovered this innocent means of keeping bowels normally active in 1875. Now, you couldn't find a drugstore without this famous prescription, all put up with directions enclosed.

Bellaire Is Offered Eastern Ohio School Court Tournament

Townsend Awaiting Decision

High Passers in Action at Wellsville Friday.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 7.—The annual high school basketball tournament for the eastern section of Ohio, scheduled for March 2, will probably be held at Bellaire, H. R. Townsend, executive secretary of the Ohio High School Athletic association, announced today.

Final decision in the case rests with the school board at Bellaire and a favorable reply to the suggestion of the association that the tournament be staged there on account of the central location is expected here tomorrow.

RECOVERING from the strain of their grueling battle with Canton McKinley here last Saturday, Coach Joe Hurst's high school passers will go into action tomorrow night on the Wellsville court in the first game of the season's home and home court series with the Tiger quint.

Both boys' and girls' engagements are scheduled on the Wellsville floor. High school athletic authorities in Wellsville have limited the number of admissions, it was announced today, to avoid congested conditions around the court.

As a result of the loss of Forward Pacey and one or two other veteran performers who became ineligible for further participation in athletics at the end of the first semester, the Tiger quint probably is not as strong as it was during the forefront of the campaign, although it is axiomatic that no Wellsville team is weak against its East Liverpool rivals.

Steuersville is the home attraction Saturday night.

Laughlin 4-5 Takes Lead in District Loop

Potters Trim Epworths; T. S. T. Defeats Collegians.

Laughlin 4-5 eagles took the lead in the Chester district basketball league when they sent the Wellsville Epworth Leaguers down to defeat, 28 to 24, last night at Chester. T. S. & T. passers took over the Collegians, 34 to 30.

The game between the Laughlins and the Epworth Leaguers was some battle, the Laughlins winning out in two five-minute extra periods, the score being deadlocked at 20 all, when time was up for the four regular quarters.

In the first extra periods each team scored a bucket, the count being tied 22 all when the period was over.

The Laughlins came through to victory in the second extra period, sending final shots by Kirkham and Staley putting the game on the shelf for the Potters.

Staley, Kirkham, McKeever, and Moore were the big works for the Laughlins, Staley with eight buckets being the scoring ace of the same. Calhoun, Fogo and Weekley were the leading performers for the Wellsville lads.

The Collegians outscored their T. S. T. rivals in the first quarter, but after that the Potters took the play away from the Collegians and were leading by a big margin until the last five minutes of play when the Collegians staged a scoring rally that came within two points of tying the score. With two minutes to go, Massey and Vanaman popped in winning field goals for T. S. & T.

Vanaman, Massey and Burke played bang-up basketball for T. S. & T., while Nease, Campbell and Miller were the mainstays for the Collegians. T. S. & T. G.F.T. Collegians: G.F.T. TALKING OVER PLANS FOR BATTLE

Jack Dempsey (left) and Young Stribling, photographed as they discussed details of that Sharkey-Stribling bout at Miami Beach, Fla. Both Sharkey and Strib have opened vigorous training for the forthcoming set-to 'neath Southern skies.

Dempsey Shows Lots of "Stuff" In His New Role as Promoter

He's Real "Go-getter" Now; Reports $120,000 in Advance Sale for Sharkey-Stribling.

By Sid Mercer.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Feb. 7.—To one who has seen Jack Dempsey pumpeled, petted and virtually made a fretting prisoner confined to close quarters for weeks before one of his big fights, William Harrison Dempsey, promoter, is a revelation.

Or John is down here in Miami Beach promoting this racket between Jack Sharkey and Young Stribling with plenty of gusto and he seems to be getting somewhere with it. A check up on the ticket sale last night found something like $120,000 in the strongbox and besides that there are close to $50,000 worth of duets out on sale at various agencies.

There was a time when the old champion was the target for reception committees and had to have a staff of managers, secretaries, bodyguards and lawyers to attend his every move. Now he is out doing the greeting himself, putting himself in a different kind of a staff. He's an office man, but the old restless habits cling to him still. He never stays in one place more than five minutes.

No strong arm men accompany Dempsey and he eats where and when he likes with no fear of anybody slipping poison into his soup or trying to kidnap him. He walks the streets with no crowds tagging at his heels, although everybody says "hello" to him.

DEFIANCE WINS FROM CAPITAL

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 7.—Defiance college ended its "good will tour" here last night by downing the Lutherans of capital in a fast hard-fought battle, 28 to 23.

This win marks the sixth scalp for the Yellow Jackets in eight games, and they return home today well satisfied with their southern tour. It was the second defeat this season that Capital has suffered at the hands of the Northwestern five.

With four minutes of the second half gone, and trailing 22 to 10, the local quintet staged a magnificent rally, and in the next few minutes ran the score up to 24 to 20. Defiance lightened up its defense, and spurred ahead, allowing the Lutherans to score only three more points.

DAYTON U. BOWS TO DENISON, 28-20

DAYTON, O., Feb. 7.—Dayton university's Filers suffered their third consecutive defeat here last night, to the up and coming basketballers of Denison, after a hard and bitter fight, 28 to 20.

Denison, which is tied for second place in the Buckeye conference race, along with Cincinnati and Wittenberg, seems to improve with every game. The Big Red's zone defense kept the Filers from scoring from the middle of the floor, and only two of Dayton's buckets were netted from the free throw line.

Dayton led for about two minutes at the beginning of the game, but was lagging at the end of the first frame, 15 to 10.

CANTON SHERERS BEAT BOOSTERS

COLUMBIANA, O., Feb. 7.—The largest crowd of the season saw a good program of basketball Tuesday in the Columbiana gym, the feature game being between the Sherer Soda Grills of Canton and the Franklin Boosters. With a whirlwind finish the Sherer team defeated the Boosters, 41-29, the game being close until the last few minutes. The Boosters' shooting was very erratic and the breaks of the game went against them.

Dowd played half the game, making his first appearance after a long illness, but his condition was such that he could not put forth his usual fine efforts. Second in interest was the first appearance of the Franklin Lassies, a newly organized squad of former Columbiana high school stars, who defeated the Salem Business College girls easily, 26-5. Grace Frye and Miriam Allen did most of the local scoring, while Brungard, Moore and Stiller did excellent work at guard.

"Sammy" Gleckler and Sara Burkle divided the work at the other forward position. It is hoped that more girls' games can be played, as the locals have the material for a fine team. The first game of the evening was between the Franklin Columbianas and a team from Petersburg. The visitors were easily smothered, 29-11, with Pretz and Costanzo featuring for the Columbianas.

STUTZ-CADILLAC RIVALS CLASH

The Stutz and the Cadillac squads will clash this evening at 8:15 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium. The Cadillac, who are bringing up the rear, are determined to improve their standing tonight at the expense of the Stutz outfit, while their opponents will fight vigorously to keep the Cadillac in the cellar. Both aggregations have been playing much better ball with the addition of several new players.

SCHMELING WILL TOUR GERMANY

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Max Schmeling, slugging German heavyweight, will not fight in the United States until after he returns from his tour of his native country, according to his American manager, Joe Jacobs. The announcement was made in reply to the assertion of officials of the Boxing board at the expense of the Stutz outfit, while their opponents will fight vigorously to keep the Cadillac in the cellar. Both aggregations have been playing much better ball with the addition of several new players.

ODDS ON SINGER TO BEAT TAYLOR

Buckeye Cage Lead Now Split Three Ways.

By Joseph K. Rukenbrod.

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 7.—Again, it has been proved that most anything at all may be expected in Ohio basketball circles.

To explain that which has been proved, one must know all about the Battling Bishops from Ohio Wesleyan. Starting the season with a victory over Ohio State, now a contender for the Big Ten pennant, the Delaware boys continued on down the line making a record of 13 straight wins, seeming unconquerable to Buckeye conference foes.

Until last Thursday evening, Wesleyan topped the conference with four wins and no defeats, and given members of the Big Six had even hope of ever sharing a piece of the pie. But those fighting Lutherans of Wittenberg proved a crag in the path of the conquering heroes, causing them to stumble and fall, and it looks as though they're down to stay. The score of the Wesleyan-Wittenberg fracas was 39 to 38, after an overtime period.

Then the alleged Battling Bishops barely won from Dayton two nights later, a non-conference opponent, displaying ragged floor play and poor shooting. But the dirt was rubbed into the wound when Miami, having only one victory on its belt, made a visit to Delaware last evening, and literally swamped Wesleyan, 33 to 22, outplaying the former leaders in every department of the game.

Anything Possible Now.
The outcome of this game was suspected by no one unless it was the Big Red boys themselves, and it's a good bet that they were not so sure. Miami practically walked away with the bacon last night, completely overshadowing the Bishops, leading from the start and keeping a safe margin for the full game.

First place in the Buckeye Intercollegiate Athletic association basketball race, is now divided three ways: Ohio Wesleyan, Cincinnati and Denison, with Wittenberg close behind. Questions arise now. Who will win the championship? Denison, which has been improving consistently, may survive, or, Cincinnati, last year's champs, may spruce up and repeat the feat. And then again, Wesleyan might find itself once more, and surge ahead to win the flag.

Whatever the outcome, fans may expect most anything yet, and surprises galore are in store. Three weeks to go. Wait and see.

Wesleyan plays Ohio at Athens Saturday, and no predictions are made. Denison and Cincinnati tangle on the same night and Wittenberg and Miami make up the other game for the week. Something's bound to happen.

DELAWARE, O., Feb. 7.—Miami university's basketball team, with only one victory to its credit in the Big Six race, completely upset and split the dope bucket here last night, by overwhelming Ohio Wesleyan, which seemed unbeatable until it met its Waterloo at the hands of Wittenberg last week, by the score of 33 to 22.

The Battling Bishops continued to display ragged team work and poor shooting in the same manner which enabled Wittenberg to beat them, last Thursday, and to barely win from Dayton, Saturday night.

Miami led at half time, 15 to 5, and its supremacy was never doubted nor its lead threatened. Taylor and Clouser starred for the winners, with six and four buckets, respectively.

SUNDAY SCHOOL TEAMS TO CLASH

Two games are scheduled tonight in the Sunday school league, at the M. P. gym.

Lutherans tackle the Christians and the M. P. five takes on the M. E. (B) quint.

SPORTSMEN WILL MEET TONIGHT

Regular meeting of the East Liverpool branch of the Columbiana County Fish and Game Protective association will be held tonight at 8 o'clock in the Ingram building.

Arrangements for spring and summer activities of the organization will be up for discussion.

SANDE TO RIDE HIS OWN HORSES

BALTIMORE, Md., Feb. 7.—Earl Sande, jockey, owner and trainer, will be riding his own horses on Maryland tracks this spring. The Maryland commission, which barred the premier jockey from its tracks two years ago, has altered the jockey rule governing cases of owner-riders as a special boon to Sande.

Hint Politics Hindered U. S. At Olympics

Coaches Attempt to Tell Public What's Wrong.

By Davis J. Walsh.

NEW YORK, Feb. 7.—Airing their views for the benefit of a local publication, five prominent athletic coaches today attempt to tell what is the matter with America in Olympic competitions and, judging by the purport of their remarks, the only thing less inspiring than the results attained in the track events is the method by which the teams are selected. Two of the coaches, Eddie Farrell, of Harvard, and Harry Hillman, of Dartmouth, appear to dally with insinuations in which the ugly word, "politics," rears its head.

Three of them, Farrell, Hillman and Jack Ryder, of Boston college and the Boston A. A., were members of the 1928 staff at Amsterdam. All of them—the others being Harry Gill, of Illinois, and Keene Fitzpatrick, of Princeton, agree that we kill our good men in a dubious effort to sustain the fact that they are good.

Their outbursts were inspired as a direct result of an article, "The competition was too keen," written by Jackson Scholz, member of the last three olympic teams and the 200-metre champion in the 1924 games.

The five coaches mentioned suggest that we minimize the importance of final tryouts and try to arrive at a selected, mostly, I suspect, on general principles.

The plans advanced by Farrell, Fitzpatrick, Hillman and Ryder vary only in detail, not in principle. That of Gill merely calls for the training season being shortened and the expansion of the final tryouts to an interval of three or four days to save the wear and tear on sinews and biceps.

Farrell has an ambitious scheme, which calls for the raising of a permanent $2,000,000 fund, the interest from which will defray the expenses of the trip, "eliminate politics" and prevent the duplication of effort.

Fight Results

AT CHICAGO—Tony Canzoneri of New York, former featherweight champion, knocked out Joey Sangor of Milwaukee (7).

AT ST. LOUIS—Henry Lenard, Chicago featherweight, won on a foul from Benny Bass of Philadelphia (3).

AT DAYTON, Ohio—Tiger West, of Philadelphia, kayeed Kid Fields, Chicago lightweight (4).

AT CINCINNATI—Freddie Miller, Cincinnati, defeated Joe Paglina, of Louisville (8).

O'Donnell Comes Back For Bout With Powers

East Liverpool Bantam, Veteran of Many Scraps in Ohio Cities, Featured in Six-round-er With Youngstown Puncher.

Among the interesting events billed by Matchmaker Tom McDonough for the Eagles' fight program Monday night will be the reappearance here of Johnny O'Donnell, bantam, who started his fistie campaign five years ago in the local F. O. E. ring under the promotion of Joe Armshaw.

O'Donnell is scheduled to take on Jackie Powers, the classy Youngstown puncher, in the six-round semi-final to the Mickey Solomon-Jack Unglo top scrap.

O'Donnell, after several fights in East Liverpool when he was just beginning to learn the tricks of the trade, went to Cleveland where he hooked up with some of the leading maulers in his division and eventually went on from there to the McCook flying field in Dayton where he put in a couple of years.

O'Donnell was amateur champion of Cleveland in 1924 and at one time held the state title.

While battling in Cleveland, O'Donnell met, among others, such lads as Frankie Van, Frankie Slammy, Jimmy Trannett, Joe Boda, Phil Goldstein and Steve Nugent. O'Donnell fought two bouts with Goldstein, drawing in one and getting a decision in the other.

While in Dayton, O'Donnell fought frequently in Columbus, his opponents in capital bouts including Joe Rayfield, Buddy Hill, Jean LaRue, Canadian flyweight champ, Sammy Lupica, Phil Goldstein, Johnny Evans, Harry Forbes and others.

He is best remembered by local fans when he was trying out his punches here, for his bouts with K. O. Sweeney, Kid Channel and Sammy Boland.

O'Donnell is being given no push-over on his return to the Ceramic city for Jackie Powers, his opponent, is classed as one of the hardest punching boys in his weight classification in eastern Ohio. Powers has appeared only once in this district, winning from Billy McNann, Pittsburgh, in eight rounds at Wellsville.

VANGUARD

A Highly Amusing Story of a Romance
Aboard a Millionaire's Yacht.

By Arnold Bennett

Septimus stood upright in his sudden decision, and simultaneously felt a touch in the small of his back. He swung round. Harriet, swung round also. A tall man faced them. Felt slippers had enabled the fellow to come right up to them soundlessly.

"I'm the parser," said the man to Septimus. "Mr. Antinope my name is. Captain's sent me. I'll thank you to come along at once."

"No 'sir'! Neither the formulae nor the accept of respect."

Septimus raised his hand, whereupon with great swiftness Mr. Antinope seized the wrist in a terrible, flesh-lacerating clutch.

"No more o' that," said Mr. Antinope briefly. Septimus could not move.

Harriet laid a restraining finger on Mr. Sutherland's right arm.

"Don't hurt him," she appealed to Mr. Sutherland. "Remember you didn't realize your strength. We don't want more trouble."

"Very well," said Septimus. He was ashamed of his duplicity, but he had to say just those two words and in just that tone of lofty forbearance. And to Mr. Antinope coldly: "I am quite ready to come along."

The frightful torturing vice which Mr. Antinope carried at the end of his arm loosed its grip.

On the floor.

Without the society of Septimus, Miss Harriet Perkins felt lorn and chilly. But she also felt more adventurous. In a moment she decided to do some prospecting. The majestic, curving, double companion or stairway leading down from the promenade deck to the main deck was lit by one tiny blue electric star. Beyond it, in the lounge which separated the dining saloon from the owner's state sitting room, were no lights whatever. Harriet remembered the situation of the switches used by Mr. Tunniff, and used them, revealing the closed door of the state sitting room. She opened the door, and beheld the scene of her exciting interview with Lord Furber brightly illuminated. Little Mr. Tunniff was seated solitary therein, examining a very large sea chart. He jumped up, blushing. The chart sank onto the carpet, waving as it fell.

"All alone?" she said, smiling.

"Yes," said Mr. Tunniff, modestly.

She suspected that she had put him into a delicious confusion.

"I came down because I was beginning to feel the cold," said she. "Whose is that fur coat?" She pointed a garment that lay on a sofa at the end of the room.

"Lord Furber's. It's always left there for him every evening in case he should want it."

"Have you dropped something? Can I find it for you?"

Mr. Tunniff was kneeling by her side.

"No," she said. "I was only looking at the hole I burnt in the carpet tonight. Quite a good hole, isn't it? The carpet will never be the same again. But His Lordship didn't seem to mind. In fact, he told me I hadn't burnt any hole. Very polite of him, wasn't it?"

"But he always is polite, isn't he?"

Her eyes smiled, Mr. Tunniff's shining eyes smiled in response. He blushed again; but said naught. There he was, kneeling close by her, feeling very self-conscious, yet somehow content; but not daring to rise till she rose. They were like two domestic animals amicably and curiously surveying each other.

"How is Lord Furber now? Have you heard?" Harriet demanded.

"About the same. It seems he's quite conscious. At least he isn't unconscious. Only he doesn't hear anything, or at least he doesn't understand anything, and he can't speak."

"Dazed?"

"Yes."

"Very strange, isn't it?"

"Yes, it is," Mr. Tunniff coughed.

"What's that chart thing?"

Harriet padded along on her knees toward the chart, and Mr. Tunniff did likewise. They pored together over the chart.

"You see, it's the environs of Naples," Mr. Tunniff explained. "The coast, that is, and the islands."

"What are all those funny figures in the sea?"

"They're the depths, in fathoms."

"Do you know which way we're going?"

"To Genoa. Genoa isn't on this chart, of course. I think the captain didn't like the Pice'da Channel to-night. He's gone outside all the islands. I don't know why."

This was Mr. Tunniff's first volunteered remark. The omission of it seemed to give him ease and a slight confidence in himself; it certainly increased his already considerable harm in the eyes of Miss Perkins.

"Poor boy!" she thought. "I mustn't be too nice to him. It would be cruelty to children. He ought to be in his cradle." Still, she did not get up from the floor.

"Where's Rome?" she asked; her finger wandered over the chart.

"Rome's not on this sheet, either. There aren't any more sheets down here."

"Oh! But I did so want to see Rome."

"There's an atlas here," Mr. Tunniff said. "If that would do."

She nodded.

"Shall we look at it?"

Now the atlas was the lowest of a pile of volumes on the floor, and Mr. Tunniff padded on his knees toward it, and Miss Perkins padded in his wake. It was a large and heavy atlas, clearly meant to be consulted on floors by students on their hands and knees. Mr. Tunniff found Southern Italy and then Rome, and he pointed to the mouth of the Tiber and to the town of Ostia, and said that Ostia was the ancient port for Rome.

"What a lot you know!" observed Harriet teasingly.

"Why do you look at me like that?"

Their heads were adjacent.

"I was only thinking how nice it would be for me to kiss you," said Tunniff, astonishingly.

Harriet had to collect herself.

"You rude little boy!" she protested, but in a tone to indicate that in her opinion they had been playing together on the carpet of a nursery.

"Well," said Mr. Tunniff, jumping up in sudden resentment, his cheeks now a deep crimson. "If you want to know, I'm older than I look by a long chalk, and as for little, I'm quite the average height. You're tall for a girl."

Harriet, twisting herself, sat at the floor and raised her glance to him; but he would not meet it.

"That makes it all the worse," said she. "If you're so fearfully old, you're old enough to know better."

"You asked me why I looked at you and I told you," he sulked, his full lower lip drooping. "If you hadn't asked me I shouldn't have said anything. And now I've said it, you don't like it—or at least you pretend you don't. That's a girl all over, that is. You're all the same." He was walking about, hands in pockets.

"And here I was thinking butter wouldn't melt in your mouth!" observed Harriet, leaning back and supporting herself on her arms stretched out behind. "I suppose you've got Spanish blood in your veins."

"I haven't. I'm just as English as you are."

"Perhaps Don Juan came once to England," said Harriet.

"I darsay you think you're very funny."

"I do. But not half as funny as you are." She laughed outright.

"Oh, go to blazes!" Mr. Tunniff shockingly exclaimed.

"Mr. Tunniff," she said. "I don't mind pointing out what's the matter with you. You've no sense of humor."

"Possibly not," said he, dryly.

"And I wanted you to help me."

"The Honourable Luke"

Mr. Tunniff's manner immediately changed. The drooping lips lifted and he smiled.

"Of course if I can do anything—"

"You can, you nice man! What's the name of the wireless operator here?"

"Tunniff."

"Same as yours."

"He's my cousin. As a matter of fact, I got him his job."

"How heavenly you are! Have you a visiting card? If so, just write on it what I tell you, and give it to me. I expect your cousin would do simply anything for you?"

TWO CONVERTED AFTER SERMON BY REVIVALIST

Rev. D. W. Rose in Free Methodist Pulpit.

FAITH IS URGED

Lord's Supper is to Be Administered Tonight.

How faith makes possible the acceptance of righteousness and the remaining steadfast in its purposes was revealed by the Rev. D. W. Rose, district superintendent of the denomination with headquarters at New Brighton, Pa., in the revival service at the Free Methodist church, Avondale street, last night. His theme was "Moses' Choice."

Three verses in Paul's letter to the Hebrews, 24-26 of the eleventh chapter, formed his text.

The Rev. Mr. Rose will speak again tonight. The sacrament of the Lord's Supper will then be administered. Because it was impractical to hold the quarterly meeting of the church in Mid-December, the session will be held in part during the final appearance of the Rev. Mr. Rose at the revival tonight.

Two young men experienced reclamation during the service last night, they having gone to the altar for prayer following the sermon.

Tells Story of Moses. "The Bible contains the best stories that have been written," asserted the Rev. Mr. Rose. "And they were true ones. Those related of Joseph, Moses, David, Ruth and others within the sacred pages are not surpassed anywhere."

He told in detail of the life of Moses, indicating that condemned to die from his birth, he, in a sense, came to the word much as a criminal. "He had no chance at all. Born in Egypt, Pharaoh had decreed that he and all male children must die in an effort to keep the children of Israel from becoming strong enough to escape the slavery to which he had doomed them."

"And his escape, when placed where the daughter of Pharaoh would find him was really due to the interference in his behalf by God. He owed his life fully to God."

Speaks of Humor of God. In this connection the Rev. Mr. Rose spoke of the seeming humor of God in that in the case of Moses he arranged that no less a personage than Pharaoh's own daughter should defeat the royal purpose and make possible ultimately the coming about of just the very thing he sought to prevent—the escape of the Israelites from their physical thralldom.

And he noted also as evidences of similar humor on the part of the Almighty the fact that Haman was hanged on the scaffold on which he hoped to execute Mordecai for whom he had formed a dislike. He held also the fact that Paul, fighting the early Christian church with such vehemence, was caused by God to experience conversion. Then followed his subsequent activity, transcending those of all others in the defense and the building of Christianity in the world.

"Indeed, viewed from such a standpoint, one is moved to remark in the case of Moses: 'That was a good joke on Pharaoh!'"

He then related how, though Moses had reached the lap of wealth and power and could bask in the sunlight of indolence should he so elect that, like all men and women, he recognized he must make a choice of whom he would serve in life.

Christ or the World?

"In Moses' consideration he had the plea of sin, the wealth of Egypt and the prestige of Pharaoh's daughter on one side and that of the reward righteousness on the other.

"And in the end of the text he, by reason of his great faith, refused to be called even the son of Pharaoh's daughter. He chose rather affliction with the people of God than the pleasure of sin for a reason. He held the reproach of Christ to be greater than the treasures of Egypt."

"And he made this choice because he had respect for the recompense of the reward that would be his for doing that which was right in the sight of God."

"And, better than all else, he stuck to this choice though he was exiled for 40 years in which time he could have changed about."

"And people these days are equally called to choose Christ or the world. And choosing Christ, it is incumbent that, like Moses, they stick to that choice. It avails little to choose and then go back into the world."

DENIES CLAIM FOR INSURANCE

Supreme Court Rules Against Leetonia Home Owners.

The judgment of the Columbiana county appellate court favoring the Continental Insurance company of New York and against Filippio Mancuso, was upheld yesterday by the state supreme court at Columbus.

The Mancusos unsuccessfully sued to collect on insurance policies, totaling $3,000, following the destruction of their Leetonia home by fire January 17, 1926.

The company refused to pay, claiming failure of the Mancusos to comply with certain conditions of the policies.
